Predict $2.9 Billion More

Hunger Budget Going Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Bureau of the Budget task force has estimated it would cost $2.9 billion more than the government is now spending on food programs to assure an adequate diet for the poor.

This is far more than President Nixon's reommendation of a $270 million boost in the food stamp program for the coming fiscal year and a $1 billion increase the following year.

The task force analysis said spending on food programs, now about $1.5 billion a year, including $340 million spent on food stamps, would have to be almost tripled by adding another $2.9 billion in some form.

The figures, presented as a working draft designed as "a point of departure for discussion and improvements were part of a six-month study by an interdepartmental Budget Bureau group for the Urban Affairs Council.

It was pegged to statistics showing that some 20.8 million Americans are below the poverty line, defined as slightly more than $3,000 income a year for an urban family of four.

The working draft was dated May 6, the same day Nixon submitted his special hunger message to Congress.

The draft contains several proposed changes for federal food programs but said:

"No claim is made that the list is either exhaustive, original, or in any way competes with the President's program."

The proposed changes include putting food stamp payments on the installment plan, establishing emergency loan programs to help the poor pay for stamps, and establishing standards to insure "that all poverty families are eligible."

Further, it suggests introduction of the commodity distribution program "at least on an interim basis, into the 480 counties and cities now without a food program" and use of federal funds to help states extend food programs into new areas.

Speaking broadly, the task force said: "standardization of welfare payments, federal cash grants or child allowances should be used to increase people's ability to purchase food."

Looking to the future, the task force said:

"If progress in reducing the number of poor were to take place at the same pace in the future as it has in the recent past, poverty (as presently defined) would be eliminated entirely by 1983.

"But this is probably an overly optimistic prediction."

Traffic Deaths At Record Rate

By The Associated Press

The first day of the Memorial Day weekend saw the death toll in traffic accidents mount at a record rate as thousands of motorists took to the nation's streets and highways.

A total of 205 persons have been killed on the road, while nine persons died in boating accidents and 63 others drowned in accidents unrelated to boating.

Before the holiday began, the National Safety Council estimated that between 550 and 650 Americans would lose their lives between 6 p.m. local time Thursday and midnight Sunday. So far, the pace of deaths on the highway is running higher than in 1968, according to a spokesman for the safety council.

To set a basis for comparison with the long holiday weekend, The Associated Press made a survey of traffic deaths in a nonholiday period of the same 78-hour duration—from 6 p.m. Thursday, May 15, to midnight Sunday, May 18. The death toll from that weekend was 481.

The record death toll for a Memorial Day holiday was 629 over last year's four-day period. The highest traffic toll for a three- day Memorial Day holiday was 542 persons in 1966.

Teacher Contracts

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Only 8 of the 50 school districts in western Michigan's region nine have definitely settled teacher contracts for the 1969-70 school year, a Michigan Education Association official reported today.

Arrests

EAST LANSING (AP)— State Police report they made 22,787 arrests in April, 20,622 for traffic offenses and 2,165 on criminal complaints. State police vehicles drove 2.01 million miles during the month.

Berkeley March Supports 'Park'

BERKELEY, Calif (AP)—"It was beautiful," a smiling bearded man said after about 15,000 persons had conducted a nonviolent march supporting the controversial "people's park."

But the future of the fenced-in three acres of property owned by the University of California at Berkeley remained in doubt.

Friday's march through downtown Berkeley covered a four-mile circular route and involved thousands of demonstrators, some 2,000 National Guardsmen and hundreds of police, sheriff's deputies and California highway patrolman.

Thousands of white and yellow daisies were distributed to marchers. Many of the flowers wound up in the fence of the disputed park and in a barbed wire barricade.

One young man walked up to a policeman and handed him a flower saying, "I want to lay a flower on you." A National Guardsman, standing with fixed bayonet at an intersection, stood unmoving as an attractive young girl kissed him and stuck a flower in his jacket.

A flatbed truck carrying a rock band and dancing girls stopped near the fence and two young girls stripped to the waist to perform for guardsmen and spectators, who stood amid an impromptu "park" of plants and grass installed on the street pavement.

The demonstrators cleaned up the street litter when is was over.

Two young men were arrested —one a teen-age runaway and the other a demonstrator who disrobed.

Marchers were demanding that the fence be torn down, that guardsmen be removed and the park returned to the young people who built it — planted trees, shrubs and grass and installed children's playground City councilmen voted 5-4 Thursday to express their willingness to lease the property, if the university regents ask them to do so.

Parades Mark Holiday

By The Associated Press

It was a day of pomp and prayer, parades and protests, recreation and just plain relaxing as Americans marked the 102nd annual observance of Memorial Day.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, laying a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery, said Friday the nation should respond to the sacrifices of its fighting men by expanding "the heritage of democracy to new horizons."

President Nixon, spending the three-day weekend with his family at Key Biscayne, Fla., urged Americans not only to honor their fighting men but to pray for peace throughout the world.

Traffic Congestion

In addition to the traditional parades, there were vigils and protests against the Vietnam was on communities across the country. A number of antiwar groups read the full list of 35,000 men who have died in Vietnam.

The holiday was for many, especially in the cities in the North, a chance to escape the asphalt and concrete for the sand, sun and shade of beaches and resorts.

The consequence was congested traffic and a mounting holiday death toll. The National Safety Council predicted that 550 to 650 persons would die in traffic accidents over the weekend.

The worst accident Friday was in Doswell, Va., 20 miles north of Richmond, where six died when a car collided with a tractor trailer. At Heflin, Ala., five persons died in the collision of a camper with a trailer truck.

It was the day of the supersnarl at Eureka, Mo., 15 miles southwest of St. Louis, where more than 13,000 vehicles were backed up 15 miles because construction had closed the westbound lane on Interstate 44—U.S. 66.

35 Parades

Traffic at the Indianapolis 500 auto classic, however, was fast and sports fans had the satisfaction of seeing a sentimental favorite, Mario Andretti, win with a record speed of 156.8 miles per hour.

The traditional Memorial Day parades and services took place in towns and cities throughout the nation. In New York City alone, 35 parades were sponsored by patriotic organizations in the five boroughs.

At Swarthmore, Pa., a high school youth refused to play "Taps" during a community service. David Carroll, 17, a Quaker, said it was against his conscience but "I meant no disrespect to those who died in wars."

Weather

ESCANABA AND VICINITY — Partly cloudy today, tonight and Sunday. Chance of thundershowers today and showers and thundershowers likely tonight and Sunday. Warmer tonight. High today near 70. Low tonight around 58. High Sunday about 75. Yesterady's high was 70, and the overnight low was 51. Winds today east to southeast 10-15 mph, tonight and Sunday southeast to south 15-20 mph. Precipitation probabilities: today, 40%; tonight and Sunday, 50%.

The sun sets today at 8:30 p.m. and rises Sunday at 5:02 a.m.

South, Latin America Besieged By Violence

Dutch Marines Try To Quell Curacao Crowd

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao (AP) — Royal Dutch Marines were called in to quell disorders on this Caribbean resort island after 5,000 striking oil refinery workers burned and looted stores Friday.

The troops and police fired at will at the rampaging crowds. One labor leader was shot in the chest and seven other persons were wounded by bullets. The toll was expected to rise.

In Amsterdam the Dutch news agency ANP said two persons were killed and 10 seriously wounded in the melee.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed as fires burned in several parts of the city in the Netherlands Antilles off the coast of Venezuela. Cruise ships make frequent stops in the duty-free port.

Frightened tourists, many of them Americans, stayed inside their luxury hotels. Telegraph communications between Curacao and New York and Caracas were cut off but lines to the Netherlands remained open.

Racial Overtones

In the Hague the Dutch government said the disorders were "serious." A communique said the Marines were sent in after police lost control of the mobs.

Although the main issue in the strike at the Royal Dutch Shell refinery is wages, the demonstrations took on racial overtones as the rioters concentrated their attacks on white-owned businesses. Curacao is 80 to 90 per cent Negro.

The Shell oil refinery workers, who are members of the Federation of Petroleum Workers, maintain they are not being paid as much as workers at other refineries.

Demonstrations began Thursday night and police fired into the air after Negro workers threatened whites. Friday morning another demonstration was held and witnesses said the mob became unruly after police shot a labor leader.

Fine Shops

After police apparently prevented an attempt to march on Fort Amsterdam, the administrative capital of the Antilles, the workers turned toward the shops that cater to tourists.

On their way, they turned over cars in the streets and set them on fire. A Panamanian businessman told how he watched the workers break shop windows, take radios, cameras and expensive watches and then set fires.

One Dutch woman who has lived all her life in Willemstad said: "The island has turned manic."

Rockefeller Offers To Talk To Students

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he's willing to sit down with militant students and talk over their grievances in an effort to prevent more violence on his South American tour.

In Bolivia, where the governor had a scheduled stop today, a U.S. official said tension was running so high the visit might have to be canceled.

Rockefeller, speaking with newsmen in Quito Friday as he concluded the ninth stop on a tour of Latin America he is making for President Nixon, said, "We are not here to fight, but to listen."

He noted that students have condemned U.S. fighting in Vietnam, and added: "Therefore, it's a shame that they resort to violence here. They should name a delegation to meet with us, to tell us how the United States can enter into a better road in its relations with Latin America."

The New York governor spoke in the aftermath of the bloodiest violence that has broken out so far during his tour. One man was reported killed and several policemen and students seriously injured in clashes here Thursday, the day Rockefeller arrived.

In the port city of Guayaquil, 170 miles southwest of Quito, six students were reported killed and 32 injured in disturbances that were not related to the Rockefeller visit.

Rockefeller said he would be willing to meet with students in any of the countries he plans to visit "if there is sincerity on their part. After all, we're here talking about things that affect their future."

Asked to clarify his offer, he said: "I've made my proposal. This holds here or anywhere. If the militants are willing to exchange violence in the streets for meaningful talks, I am ready."

Referring to a fire that caused extensive damage at the U.S. Information Service library here Thursday after a dynamite bombing, Rockefeller said: "It is a shame they have destroyed a library where 2,000 of their fellow students have been studying and learning."

U.S. Sergeant Escapes VCs

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Army sergeant from Altus, Okla., who had been a prisoner of the Viet-Cong escaped from his captors last Monday and was picked up Friday by an American helicopter crew, the U. S. command reported.

He was identified as Kenneth R. Gregory, son of Mrs. Helen Gregory, P.O. box 178, general delivery, Altus, Okla.

Spokesmen said he was married but his wife's name and address were not available immediately.

Gregory was found about 12 miles northwest of Tay Ninh City, an area near the Cambodian border, the command said.

His condition was listed as "good" by Army doctors. He had lost 10 pounds, dropping from 165 to 155, while in captivity, the announcement said.

Gregory was spotted on a bamboo jungle trail by a U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division helicopter crew, four days after he "escaped from captivity," the announcement said. It gave no details of his escape, where he had been held or his treatment.

After being picked up by the helicopter, Gregory was taken to the 24th Evacuation Hospital at Long Binh, where he is undergoing examinations.

Blue Cross Hike

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross, a hospital insurance plan, has proposed a 5.36 per cent average base rate increase effective in October.

The proposed increase was filed with the State Insurance Bureau Thursday.

Blue Shield, a companion medical insurance plan, proposed no increase in its rates.

August To Take Witness Stand

MASON, Mich. (AP) — A suspended Detroit policeman will take the witness stand in his own defense early next week to tell why and how he killed a Negro youth at an inner city motel during the 1967 Detroit riot.

Ronald August, 31, is accused of first degree murder in the slaying of 19 - year - old Aubrey Pollard at the Algiers Motel the night of July 26, 1967.

Defense attorney Norman Lippitt says the accused patrolman will testify in his own behalf Monday or Tuesday.

The testimony, along with the expected careful cross examination by assistant prosecutor Avery Weiswasser, will be the high point of the trial so far, which has been going on for three weeks in the Lansing suburb.

The state rested its case against the white policeman last Wednesday after presenting more than 40 witnesses.

Argentina's General Strike Takes 6 Lives

CORDOBA, Argentina (AP) — Snipers and soldiers battled through the night in Cordoba, where six persons have been killed in two days of violence. The rest of Argentina was relatively calm today after the most effective general strike in more than 10 years.

Trucks and armored personnel carriers rumbled through the streets of the nation's third largest city, 500 miles northwest of Buenos Aires. Soldiers guarded every corner of the downtown area. Gunshots echoed continually as troops searched for snipers.

An adventuresome taxi driver agreed to drive out-of-town newsmen from the airport into the city. With his lights out, he wound through the streets, around bonfires, piles of broken glass and overturned lamp posts.

Dissatisfied

As the taxi passed through the Clinicas district, the center of agitation where many students live, shots rang out every few seconds.

"The people are dissatisfied," the driver said. "First, the government raised bus fares, then it was milk, then bread—but salaries stayed the same."

He stopped at a darkened service station. "This is as far as I'll take you. You'll find the army starting at the next block."

The military has taken control of the entire city of 800,000 people. Gen. Eleodoro Sanchez Lahoz has publicly ordered his soldiers to kill anyone on the street without permission during the dusk-to-dawn curfew.

Scores of shop windows in the downtown area were broken, and debris littered the streets. No civilians—only soldiers—were in sight.

Damage At $14 Million

The army estimated that the two days of bloody rioting in the nation's prosperous auto center caused $14 million in property damage, half the city's annual budget.

No place in town was safe. A woman and her young son leaned out a window of a luxury hotel and were cut down by bullets. Both were in serious condition.

A man standing on a balcony of the same hotel across from a police station was shot dead. Authorities said he was a sniper, but hotel guests said he had just leaned out on the balcony to watch.

Police said two snipers were killed Friday night, bringing the death toll to six.

A thousand striking workers and students tried to march two miles from a suburb to the center of the city Friday and were fired on by army troops.

The violence broke out Thursday when workers walked off their jobs 12 hours before a national general strike was scheduled to begin. About 6,000 auto workers gathered to march downtown and broke through a police cordon. Police then opened fire.

Pat Paulsen's Rowboat Sinks

CHICAGO (AP) — Comedian Pat Paulsen set out across Lake Michigan Friday in a rowboat.

Saying only he could lead the American people to right thinking in matters of physical fitness, the scrawny Paulsen began stroking his way in the general direction of Sturgis, Mich.

When he reached the choppy water outside the breakwater of the Monroe Street Harbor, his craft sank. Paulsen, unhurt, was picked up by a motor boat.

Defense attorney Norman Lippitt says the accused patrolman will testify in his own behalf Monday or Tuesday.

The testimony, along with the expected careful cross examination by assistant prosecutor Avery Weiswasser, will be the high point of the trial so far, which has been going on for three weeks in the Lansing suburb.

The state rested its case against the white policeman last Wednesday after presenting more than 40 witnesses.

Argentina's General Strike Takes 6 Lives

CORDOBA, Argentina (AP) — Snipers and soldiers battled through the night in Cordoba, where six persons have been killed in two days of violence. The rest of Argentina was relatively calm today after the most effective general strike in more than 10 years.

Trucks and armored personnel carriers rumbled through the streets of the nation's third largest city, 500 miles northwest of Buenos Aires. Soldiers guarded every corner of the downtown area. Gunshots echoed continually as troops searched for snipers.

An adventuresome taxi driver agreed to drive out-of-town newsmen from the airport into the city. With his lights out, he wound through the streets, around bonfires, piles of broken glass and overturned lamp posts.

Dissatisfied

As the taxi passed through the Clinicas district, the center of agitation where many students live, shots rang out every few seconds.

"The people are dissatisfied," the driver said. "First, the government raised bus fares, then it was milk, then bread—but salaries stayed the same."

He stopped at a darkened service station. "This is as far as I'll take you. You'll find the army starting at the next block."

The military has taken control of the entire city of 800,000 people. Gen. Eleodoro Sanchez Lahoz has publicly ordered his soldiers to kill anyone on the street without permission during the dusk-to-dawn curfew.

Scores of shop windows in the downtown area were broken, and debris littered the streets. No civilians—only soldiers—were in sight.

Damage At $14 Million

The army estimated that the two days of bloody rioting in the nation's prosperous auto center caused $14 million in property damage, half the city's annual budget.

No place in town was safe. A woman and her young son leaned out a window of a luxury hotel and were cut down by bullets. Both were in serious condition.

A man standing on a balcony of the same hotel across from a police station was shot dead. Authorities said he was a sniper, but hotel guests said he had just leaned out on the balcony to watch.

Police said two snipers were killed Friday night, bringing the death toll to six.

A thousand striking workers and students tried to march two miles from a suburb to the center of the city Friday and were fired on by army troops.

The violence broke out Thursday when workers walked off their jobs 12 hours before a national general strike was scheduled to begin. About 6,000 auto workers gathered to march downtown and broke through a police cordon. Police then opened fire.

Pat Paulsen's Rowboat Sinks

CHICAGO (AP) — Comedian Pat Paulsen set out across Lake Michigan Friday in a rowboat.

Saying only he could lead the American people to right thinking in matters of physical fitness, the scrawny Paulsen began stroking his way in the general direction of Sturgis, Mich.

When he reached the choppy water outside the breakwater of the Monroe Street Harbor, his craft sank. Paulsen, unhurt, was picked up by a motor boat.

Furniture Firm, Mead To Merge

NEW YORK — Directors of Stanley Furniture Co., Inc. and Mead Corp. have approved in principle an agreement by which Stanley will join Mead. The announcement was made jointly by Thomas B. Stanley Jr., president of Stanley Furniture, and James W. McSwiney, president of Mead.

Stanley, a well-known manufacturer of household furniture, had sales of more than $45 million in 1968. Mead, whose products include paper, packaging, educational supplies, iron pipe, castings and construction materials, had sales totaling $897.5 million last year.

Founded in 1924, Stanley has plants in Stanleytown, Virginia; Ferrum, Virginia; West End, N. C.; Hickory, N.C.: Maxton, N. C.; Conover, N.C.; Lincolnton, N.C.; and Gibson, S.C. The company employs 2,800 in its operations and has its headquarters in Stanleytown.

"The agreement with Stanley represents an opportunity to diversify into home furnishings—a growth field new to Mead," McSwiney said. "We are impressed by Stanley's growth over the past five years and even more so with the quality of their management."

"Stanley will continue under its present name and with the policies and personnel which have made it so successful," according to Stanley.

After giving effect to the 100 per cent Mead common share distribution scheduled for June 1, it is contemplated that share owners of Stanley will receive two and one-eighth Mead common shares for each share of Stanley now owned, resulting in the issuance of approximately 1,700,000 Mead common shares. The agreement is subject to completion of a definitive contract and to approval by the share owners of Stanley.

Tech To Offer Summer Science

HOUGHTON—A special two-week program for high school juniors and seniors interested in science will begin July 27 at Michigan Technological University.

Students may enroll in the first week's session on aquatic ecology, the second-week section on field geology, or both. Participants can live on or off campus with their families or in the University's residence halls.

Additional information is available by contacting the Michigan Tech Division of Public Services.

MEA Retains Negotiators

With the closing of schools near, three professional negotiations consultants have been retained for the summer months to assist Upper Peninsula Michigan Education Association units conclude district teacher contract negotiations for next year.

Appointment of Ronald Patrick, Manistique, Joseph Sacchetti, Iron Mountain, and Paul Matero, Ontonagon, was announced today by Arnold Korpi, regional center director.

"Progress in negotiations has been erratic throughout the Upper Peninsula," Korpi said.

"These additional staff members will enable us to provide greater assistance in those areas where little has been accomplished since discussions began," he said.

Korpi said agreements have been reached in only 8 of the 60 negotiating units in the Upper Peninsula.

"Some Boards of Education are waiting for the Legislature to adopt a State Aid Bill before entering serious contract talks," he said.

"A few of the districts have accepted their responsibilities and are progressing with negotiations to improve the educational programs for youngsters in their systems," Korpi continued.

"Still others, he explained, are having difficulty even beginning the bargaining process.

Korpi cited Portage Township (Houghton) as a example. Proceedings may be initiated against the school board there to get the bargaining talks underway, he said.

Korpi said the district has declined to acknowledge receipt of the formal request to open negotiations on the 1969-70 teacher contract.

Mulzer, Senger File For School Board Election

STEPHENSON — The Board of Education of the Stephenson Area Public Schools announces that the annual school election will be held Monday, June 9, in the Lake Township Hall, Holmes Township Hall, Daggett Township Hall, Stephenson County Library Building, Ingallstone Township Hall, Mellen Elementary School and the Cedar River School precincts.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Two trustees will be elected to serve four year terms. Mark Mulzer and Ray A. Senger have filed for the two trustees.

The Menominee County Tax Allocation Commission allocated 6.50 mills to the county for 1969. This is one-half a mill more than the county received last year. This means that the allocated millage for the public schools will be decreased from 7.86 mills to 7.36 mills or one-half a mill less than last year. To maintain the same millage for the public schools in 1969-70 as was levied in 1968-69 it will be necessary to levy 4.64 mills instead of 4.14 mills.

The Board of Education of the Stephenson Area Public Schools urges approval of levy of 4.64 mills for a period of one year.

Stephenson High School will offer a summer session on driver education for students who will enroll in the sophomore class for the school year 1969-70. The first session of the class will begin on Monday, June 2, at 9 a. m.

Students are required to take driver education to secure a driver license at age 16. The program will be directed by William Johnson of the high school staff, assisted by William Grundstrom.

Ground Breaking For TV Station Slated June 13

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new WFRV-TV satellite television station to serve Escanaba and central Upper Peninsula will be held Friday, June 13, announced Robert O. Southard, vice president and general manager of the Green Bay, Wis., firm.

Ceremonies are scheduled at 3:30 p. m. at the transmitter site, about 1.5 miles east of U. S. 41 on County Rd. 444.

The station is scheduled to begin broadcasting this fall, providing "off the air" signals of WFRV-TV programming over Channel 3.

State Legislators Catch Their Breath

LANSING (AP) — The long, Memorial Day weekend gave Michigan legislators a chance to catch their breath and recover their tempers after hot, angry sessions this week.

But more of the same is in store on Monday.

Each chamber has completed its share of preliminary action on Gov. William Milliken's proposed $1.52 billion budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The work now changes hands.

Practical and foresighted senators got an early start on the long weekend by continuing a late Wednesday session into the early hours of Thursday.

But the House, larger, less disciplined, found itself still uncertain at midafternoon Thursday of adjourning at all.

Outbursts

Attempts to iron out sharp disagreement over principle and some $7 million in two appropriation bills went on amid occasional outbursts from legislators eager to get away.

Rep. James F. O'Neill, D-Saginaw, suggested at one point that the House postpone Memorial Day.

Final agreements, reached in interparty huddles that ebbed and flowed about the huge chamber, made the following budget cuts:

—$4 million from the $279 million public welfare appropriation. An additional sum in federal matching aid would also be withdrawn from the more than $205-million, state medicaid program.

—A reduced tax, buried in the regulatory agencies appropriation, that would bring in some $2.2 million in aviation fuel taxes.

School Aid Simmers

Meanwhile, there were these matters still simmering in the House:

—Senate rejection of a compromise committee's revision of the $847 million public school aid appropriation. Elimination of more than $1 million for a defunct Wayne County school district was expected to be opposed by House Democrats when meetings resume with Senate Republicans

A Senate-approved resolution calling on Gov. Milliken to direct his special education study committee to report of state aid to parochial school teachers.

The House earlier turned down one Parochiaid proposal and House Speaker William A. Ryan, principal backer of the concept, said he was "not too kean" on pushing the Senate resolution.

Water Bonds

—Ongoing disagreement with the Senate over approval of funds from water pollution control bonds totaling $225 million. The Senate wants to keep close control over the money by requiring legislative approval of a bill detailing each approved, local project.

House negotiators believe a simpler resolution would be adequate and reduce special-interest maneuvering.

—More than 300, House-originated, bills which must be sorted out by next Friday.

"There's no way we can do it," predicted one legislator. "We can't possibly crack that calendar before Fall."

Briefly Told

Escanaba police are investigating the breaking and entering of the Miller Beverage Co. warehouse at 716 N. 21st St., which was reported to officers by Edwin Miller on Wednesday. A substantial quantity of beer and wine are missing, police reported.

Traffic court notices have been issued by Escanaba police to Leonard P. LaRose, 323 N. 20th St., and Charles R. Wandahsega, 316 1st Ave. S., both for speeding; John P. Koeller, 1403 Washington Ave., no registration; Richard J. Bingham, Wells, disobeying a traffic signal; Daniel J. O'Connell, 1925 10th Ave. S., failing to exercise due care; and William E. Multhaupt, 207 Maple Ave., Manistique, careless driving.

The Delta County Chapter of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the J. F. Kennedy School. Officers will be elected and all members are to attend. Refreshments will be served.

State Troopers issued the following traffic citations Thursday and Friday: David Lambert, Rte. 1, Gladstone, expired drivers license; and David Valiquette, Rte. 2, Escanaba, speeding and no operators license. Troopers also arrested Leonard Hartwell, 28, Gwinn, for drinking beer on the highway.

Wenell Tourangeau, Rte. 2, Escanaba, reported to State Police Friday that a car missed a curve, went in and out of a ditch, hit his house causing minor damage and kept on going before he could get out of the house to check the license number. Troopers have the matter under investigation.

George LeFave, Grand Rapids, reported to State Police the larceny of propane gas tanks from his cabin south of Rapid River.

Summer hours of 8 a. m. to non and 1 to 4 p. m. will be observed beginning Monday at the Delta County Building.

St. Anne's Sunday School program will be held during the 10 a. m. Mass, Sunday.

Martha Society will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Walter Wicklund, 1005 Sheridan Road.

Barbara Oberg, Miss Matheson Receive Degrees

KENOSHA, Wis. — Carthage College will graduate 316 this year, largest in the school's history, and among them will be two from Delta County who received Bachelor of Arts degrees.

They are:

Barbara Ann Oberg, elementary education major, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oberg of Rapid River Rte. 1. She is a graduate of Rapid River High School.

Gale Louise Matheson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Matheson, 424 S. 16th St., Escanaba, a graduate of Escanaba High School, who is an elementary education and sociology major.

Carthage College was chartered in 1847. The baccalaureate was held Sunday with the sermon given by the Rev. Marcus E. Otterbein, staff official, Board of Parish Education, Lutheran Church in America, Philadelphia.

Dividend

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — A second quarter dividend of 13¼ cents per share will be paid to shareholders of Investors Selective Fund, Inc., according to Harold K. Bradford, board chairman and president. The total dividend, derived exclusively from interest and dividend income, amounts to approximately $465,470, and is payable May 29 to shareholders of record May 28.

"A few of the districts have accepted their responsibilities and are progressing with negotiations to improve the educational programs for youngsters in their systems," Korpi continued.

"Still others, he explained, are having difficulty even beginning the bargaining process.

Korpi cited Portage Township (Houghton) as a example. Proceedings may be initiated against the school board there to get the bargaining talks underway, he said.

Korpi said the district has declined to acknowledge receipt of the formal request to open negotiations on the 1969-70 teacher contract.

Mulzer, Senger File For School Board Election

STEPHENSON — The Board of Education of the Stephenson Area Public Schools announces that the annual school election will be held Monday, June 9, in the Lake Township Hall, Holmes Township Hall, Daggett Township Hall, Stephenson County Library Building, Ingallstone Township Hall, Mellen Elementary School and the Cedar River School precincts.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Two trustees will be elected to serve four year terms. Mark Mulzer and Ray A. Senger have filed for the two trustees.

The Menominee County Tax Allocation Commission allocated 6.50 mills to the county for 1969. This is one-half a mill more than the county received last year. This means that the allocated millage for the public schools will be decreased from 7.86 mills to 7.36 mills or one-half a mill less than last year. To maintain the same millage for the public schools in 1969-70 as was levied in 1968-69 it will be necessary to levy 4.64 mills instead of 4.14 mills.

The Board of Education of the Stephenson Area Public Schools urges approval of levy of 4.64 mills for a period of one year.

Stephenson High School will offer a summer session on driver education for students who will enroll in the sophomore class for the school year 1969-70. The first session of the class will begin on Monday, June 2, at 9 a. m.

Students are required to take driver education to secure a driver license at age 16. The program will be directed by William Johnson of the high school staff, assisted by William Grundstrom.

Ground Breaking For TV Station Slated June 13

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new WFRV-TV satellite television station to serve Escanaba and central Upper Peninsula will be held Friday, June 13, announced Robert O. Southard, vice president and general manager of the Green Bay, Wis., firm.

Ceremonies are scheduled at 2:30 p. m. at the transmitter site, about 1.5 miles east of U. S. 41 on County Rd. 444.

The station is scheduled to begin broadcasting this fall, providing "off the air" signals of WFRV-TV programming over Channel 3.

State Legislators Catch Their Breath

LANSING (AP) — The long, Memorial Day weekend gave Michigan legislators a chance to catch their breath and recover their tempers after hot, angry sessions this week.

But more of the same is in store on Monday.

Each chamber has completed its share of preliminary action on Gov. William Milliken's proposed $1.52 billion budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The work now changes hands.

Practical and foresighted senators got an early start on the long weekend by continuing a late Wednesday session into the early hours of Thursday.

But the House, larger, less disciplined, found itself still uncertain at midafternoon Thursday of adjourning at all.

Outbursts

Attempts to iron out sharp disagreement over principle and some $7 million in two appropriation bills went on amid occasional outbursts from legislators eager to get away.

Rep. James F. O'Neill, D-Saginaw, suggested at one point that the House postpone Memorial Day.

Final agreements, reached in interparty huddles that ebbed and flowed about the huge chamber, made the following budget cuts:

—$4 million from the $279 million public welfare appropriation. An additional sum in federal matching aid would also be withdrawn from the more than $205-million, state medicaid program.

—A reduced tax, buried in the regulatory agencies appropriation, that would bring in some $2.2 million in aviation fuel taxes.

School Aid Simmers

Meanwhile, there were these matters still simmering in the House:

—Senate rejection of a compromise committee's revision of the $847 million public school aid appropriation. Elimination of more than $1 million for a defunct Wayne County school district was expected to be opposed by House Democrats when meetings resume with Senate Republicans

A Senate-approved resolution calling on Gov. Milliken to direct his special education study committee to report of state aid to parochial school teachers.

The House earlier turned down one Parochiaid proposal and House Speaker William A. Ryan, principal backer of the concept, said he was "not too kean" on pushing the Senate resolution.

Water Bonds

—Ongoing disagreement with the Senate over approval of funds from water pollution control bonds totaling $225 million. The Senate wants to keep close control over the money by requiring legislative approval of a bill detailing each approved, local project.

House negotiators believe a simpler resolution would be adequate and reduce special-interest maneuvering.

—More than 300, House-originated, bills which must be sorted out by next Friday.

"There's no way we can do it," predicted one legislator. "We can't possibly crack that calendar before Fall."

Briefly Told

Escanaba police are investigating the breaking and entering of the Miller Beverage Co. warehouse at 716 N. 21st St., which was reported to officers by Edwin Miller on Wednesday. A substantial quantity of beer and wine are missing, police reported.

Traffic court notices have been issued by Escanaba police to Leonard P. LaRose, 323 N. 20th St., and Charles R. Wandahsega, 316 1st Ave. S., both for speeding; John P. Koeller, 1403 Washington Ave., no registration; Richard J. Bingham, Wells, disobeying a traffic signal; Daniel J. O'Connell, 1925 10th Ave. S., failing to exercise due care; and William E. Multhaupt, 207 Maple Ave., Manistique, careless driving.

The Delta County Chapter of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the J. F. Kennedy School. Officers will be elected and all members are to attend. Refreshments will be served.

State Troopers issued the following traffic citations Thursday and Friday: David Lambert, Rte. 1, Gladstone, expired drivers license; and David Valiquette, Rte. 2, Escanaba, speeding and no operators license. Troopers also arrested Leonard Hartwell, 28, Gwinn, for drinking beer on the highway.

Wenell Tourangeau, Rte. 2, Escanaba, reported to State Police Friday that a car missed a curve, went in and out of a ditch, hit his house causing minor damage and kept on going before he could get out of the house to check the license number. Troopers have the matter under investigation.

George LeFave, Grand Rapids, reported to State Police the larceny of propane gas tanks from his cabin south of Rapid River.

Summer hours of 8 a. m. to non and 1 to 4 p. m. will be observed beginning Monday at the Delta County Building.

St. Anne's Sunday School program will be held during the 10 a. m. Mass, Sunday.

Martha Society will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Walter Wicklund, 1005 Sheridan Road.

Dividend

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — A second quarter dividend of 13¼ cents per share will be paid to shareholders of Investors Selective Fund, Inc., according to Harold K. Bradford, board chairman and president. The total dividend, derived exclusively from interest and dividend income, amounts to approximately $465,470, and is payable May 29 to shareholders of record May 28.

Milliken Reassures University Editors

LANSING (AP) — A spokesman for a group of state college and university newspaper editors says they were "impressed and reassured" after meeting with Gov. William Milliken.

"It was important to us that he repeated that he did not believe in outside influences on the colleges and that he said he would take no (police) action against students unless requested," said Jeff Jurmu, of the Northern News, Northern Michigan University newspaper.

William Leach and John Grant of the Wayne State University newspaper South End told the governor they feared "conditions are the same" and "there might be another riot" in Detroit.

Milliken refused to accept this.

"Progress has been made," he insisted. "I refuse to go on the premise there will be a riot."

A group of 17 students representing various student publications accepted an invitation to have a "dialogue" with the governor Thursday.

The students generally objected to tuition increases and said faculty members were leaving their colleges because of low budget appropriations.

Milliken replied that other states — such as New York and California — were attributing loss of faculty to the same cause.

Trinka Cline, a member of the Michigan State University State News staff, said students objected to the Legislature threatening to withhold funds because of campus demonstrations.

Milliken indicated his agreement.

"But wrongs can't be righted by denying rights to others," he told the students.

Milliken told the students that if his Commission on Educational Reform of Elementary and Secondary School Education is a success, he may name a similar commission next year to study the problems of higher education.

Potato Farmers Get New Insecticide

A new insecticide has been developed for potato growers that will eliminate the need to spray every week to 10 days to control insect population on the potato crop, said Joseph Heirman, MSU extension director for Delta County.

Heirman explained that the insecticide in grandular form is placed by a potato planting machine into the soil near the potato seed. As the new potato plant develops from the seed and puts out a root system the insecticide is taken up in solution.

Heirman said the solution then travels from the root system through the branches and leaves of the plant. Any insects that try to either suck juice or eat portions of the plant will help themselves to the insecticide and are killed.

This initial application will usually take care of the insect problem for an entire summer, added Heirman.

"This new innovation is currently being used by most of the large commercial potato growers," said Heirman, "and we believe it is a necessary practice in the growing of quality potatoes."

Heirman said the insecticide is harmless as far as human consumption is concerned, because it stays in the leaves and branches of the plant not the potato itself.

Woman Hurt In Accident

A Rapid River woman is listed in serious condition at Marquette's St. Luke's Hospital today following an accident that occurred at 1:45 p. m. Thursday on U. S. 2 at County Rd. 509. Details on extent of her injuries were not available.

State Police said that Molly Bertram, 51, Rapid River was atempting to make a left turn in front of a car driven by Ben Gregg, 79, Trenary, when their two cars collided. Gregg was not injured, officers said.

Troopers are still investigating the accident.

Order Austerity Program

Mackinac College In Financial Trouble

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Mackinac College, Michigan's newest private institution of higher learning, concedes it is in "deep financial trouble" and that without the infusion of several million dollars "its back is broken."

With faint hope of raising the required capital, trustees have ordered an austerity program into effect to keep operating another year.

Dr. S. Douglas Cornell, who resigned as executive officer of the National Academy of Sciences to become president of the new college, said another year's operation was decided upon because trustees felt an obligation to the college's charter class, which now numbers about 55, to give it a fourth year.

T. H. Guething of Detroit, vice chairman of trustees, said the future would depend upon finding financial assistance "in cash or assurance of it."

Seeks Brotherhood

The Moral Re-Armament movement gave Mackinac College its start, giving or mortgaging its $6.5 million complex of buildings and 26 - acre grounds on this resort island in the Straits of Mackinac.

The College has added a $1 million Peter Howard Library, the $2 million Clark Center for Arts and Sciences and $475,000 in faculty housing and other construction.

The library is named for MRA's late leader, English journalist Peter Howard, who succeeded Dr. Frank N.D. Buchman as chief of the movement which grew from The Oxford Movement started by Buchman in 1922.

Tuition Insufficient

MRA advocates as a means of creating a world brotherhood the practice of "absolute honesty, absolute purity, absolute unselfishness and absolute love" in everyday life.

Clark Center is named for Mr. and Mrs. Van Alan Clark of New York, who donated it.

To assist in operating expenses, Mrs. Albert H. Ely of Washington, D.C., has given more than $1 million, with matching funds raised from other sources.

But Dr. Cornall says, as many state-supported universities have learned, funds obtained from tuition and fees cannot be stretched sufficiently to meet all college expenses.

"The financial ills of Mackinac College were anticipated to some extent," Dr. Cornell said. "Mackinac has no alumni and endowments have been insufficent to take up the balance."

To pay off debts and assure austerity operations next year, $1.5 million must be raised in the next few months, Dr. Cornell said of the college which opened in 1966 to "equip youth with moral as well as intellectual leadership which the age demands."

Free Facility

At its launching, trustees said they believed that "the youth of America are eager for an education that prepares them to answer the pressures of fear, hatted and green, predjudice and apathy, which threaten to negate man's spectacular advances in knowledge and technical skills."

And now, Dr. Cornell says 22 members out of a faculty of 31 have offered to serve free next year, although under its auserity program the college likely will need only 10 to 15 to serve a student body of 50-odd, compared with a current enrollment of about 200.

The library alone likely will be sufficient for all classes, leaving Clark Hall empty, along with other fine buildings made available by MRA.

Great Hall

These include what is known as the Great Hall, with a carpeted auditorium seating 800 and dining rooms and kitchens capable of feeding 1,000 simultaneously, and a theatre - studio with movie-making equipment and lighting rivaling that of Hollywood.

Dormitory and other facilities are capable of handling a student body of 650, a goal which Mackinac has failed to reach. It started its 1968-69 term with approximately 300.

But Mackinac lost, by Dr. Cornell's estimate, 60 students earlier this year when it was announced that a full-year program was being inaugurated in which students would spend six months on campus and travel the next six months with an "Up With People" troupe, several of which have been formed by MRA.

These troupes tour the United States and foreign countries, attempting by song to spread MRA's ideology and promoting enlistments in the cause and its financial needs. They also organize local offshoots known as "Sings Outs."

Relations To Town

Objections came from some among students and faculty to the shared time proposal and resulted in student resignations.

Dr. Cornell also has complained of what he termed "harrassment" by some newspapers, which he says give a distorted picture of relations with Mackinac village residents.

"Never once," he says, "have their reporters asked to talk to me. They have talked with members of our staff and certainly have made an effort to get interviews with townspeople or students whom they are certain will reflect the views they want."

Dr. Cornell also has complained of what he termed "harrassment" by some newspapers, which he says give a distorted picture of relations with Mackinac village residents.

"Never once," he says, "have their reporters asked to talk to me. They have talked with members of our staff and certainly have made an effort to get interviews with townspeople or students whom they are certain will reflect the views they want."

Court Assessed

The appointment of U. S. Appeals Court Judge Warren Earl Burger as chief justice of the Supreme Court marks the end of the so-called Warren Court. Judge Burger, a native of St. Paul, Minn., who has devoted a lifetime to the pursuit of law, will succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren when the Supreme Court convenes next fall.

The Warren Court, now nearing the end of its 16th year, has accounted for some of the most sweeping changes in American judicial history. It seldom hesitated to march where angels fear to tread. The thorniest legal thickets failed to deter the Warren Court justices. In consequence, the court acquired a reputation as an activist body and inevitably became a center of controversy. Liberals generally hailed the Warren Court decisions while conservatives were dismayed by these same decisions. The extreme conservatives called for the impeachment of Chief Justice Warren.

No one can say exactly how history will judge the course the Warren Court has followed, but an assessment of the Warren era was the subject of a comprehensive review in a recent issue of the Michigan Law Review, published earlier this year by the University of Michigan Law School. Here are appraisals of some of the court's major decisions, as seen by contributors to that review:

* * *

The historic 1954 school desegregation decision was "a revolutionary statement" in America's race relations law "that promised more than it could give," according to Robert L. Carter, former general counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The decision "has completely altered the style, the spirit, the stance of race relations; yet the pre-existing pattern of white superiority and black subordination remains unchanged." Carter faults the court for ordering "all deliberate speed" in compliance with its decision. Instead, he said, the court should have ordered "the immediate vindication of the right that it had declared to exist."

* * *

Although there was a great public outcry over the "one man, one vote" ruling that resulted in reapportionment of state legislature and even county boards of supervisors, the ruling has been speedily and widely implemented and the protests have "faded to a whisper," in the opinion of Dean Robert B. McKay of New York University Law School.

"The mood, even among politicians, is that the decisions are acceptable; the accommodations have largely been made," he said. "It is not easy to think of any other major Supreme Court decision to which significant adjustment was so swiftly accomplished.'

* * *

The Warren Court "unalterably changed the course of the administration of criminal justice in America," wrote Dean A. Kenneth Pye of Duke University Law School, and this has been one of the areas in which it has provoked the loudest protests.

But Pye defends the court's stands in this area because, he said, "the gulf between the illusion and reality of constitutional protection has been narrowed. The quality of justice meted out to the poor closely approximates that available to the rich. In many areas we are beginning to implement rights to which we have paid lip service for decades. We have begun to remove much of the hypocrisy which characterized our criminal process. While perhaps not totally effective, court decisions do restrain police from some unlawful practices which were previously regarded as routine. A defendant is assured most of the basic procedural rights whether he is tried in a state or a federal court."

* * *

A final appraisal of the court itself is penned by Prof. Philip B. Kurland of the University of Chicago Law School; "Certainly the court must be given credit for helping to spark the Negro revolution that engulfs us at the moment. Certainly, too, the court has contributed to the egalitarian ethos that is becoming so dominent. But we do not yet know whether the court's efforts have enhanced the rule of law in our society or have diminished it.

"And ultimately, I suspect, the verdict of history will depend upon the outcome of these three manifestations of the court's business."

The City Commission at Marquette has urged the State Highway Commission to advance the project to widen a four-mile stretch of U. S. 41 and M-28 from its present position in 1973 in Highway Dept. construction plans. A resolution passed by the Commission asks the project to be moved up on the priority list to permit construction hopefully next year but at least by 1971.

Brimley elementary schools will change to a non-grade K-6 system with the beginning of the fall term. Under the non-graded system, a study committee reported, slow learners, average students and those who learn rapidly all are able to achieve success at their own speeds. The program, for example, will be divided into 16 levels of reading instruction and children will be grouped according to their reading ability and will progress immediately as they complete all skills at a particular level.

A 40-acre site adjacent to the new soccer field on the Marinette County University Campus has been purchased by the Board of Supervisors for construction of a new vocational-technical school. The $35,000 cost will be divided by the county and City of Marinette. The board of the vocational-technical district has indicated its intention to locate schools in Marinette and Sturgeon Bay.

Business Take-Over Is Easy If Planned

EAST LANSING—How does a small company successfully take over another business almost twice its size in sales, assets and earnings?

It has happened in Michigan and is occurring with increasinug frequency in the business world, according to one analyst.

In fact, the tender offer is the fastest growing, most important financial phenomenon in recent years, writes Dr. Donald V. Austin in the current issue of Michigan State University's Business Topics.

Business Topics is a quarterly journal published by the Graduate School of Business Administration at MSU. Dr. Austin is an associate professor of finance at Western Michigan University.

Dr. Austin's article "Anatomy of a Tender Offer" shows how easily a take-over can be effected if the company uses a well-planned, overt attack.

The case in point is the takeover in 1965 of Michigan's largest paper company, K.V.P.-Sutherland of Kalamazoo, by the Brown Company, a firm about half K.V.P.'s size.

No Opposition

When Brown made the offer to K.V.P.'s management and stockholders, K.V.P. had assets of $110.3 million and sales of $132.5 million. In contrast, Brown had 1965 assets of $61.9 million and sales of $67.4 million.

According to the author, the take-over was easily accomplished because K.V.P. management offered no opposition to the tender.

"In essence," writes Dr. Auston, "K.V.P.'s management, by standing aside, sold out the company. David beat Goliath because Goliath was dying.

"K.V.P.'s overall financial performance (during the five years prior to the offer) was illustrative of a stagnant, unprogressive company in an old, conservative industry," explains Dr. Austin.

"By the fact that they did not oppose the offer, K.V.P.'s management," he notes, "gave tacit approval to the take-over.

"Brown's acquisition and subsequent merger with K.V.P. was indeed a bargain situation," according to Dr. Austin.

Brown offered stockholders $33 per share. The author points out that "a $33 bid price for a stock with a $30.50 market price and book value of $37.74 was not an attractive offer to K.V.P. shareholders while it was extremely attractive to Brown."

Management Rejected

Despite the unattractiveness of the offer, K. V. P. shareholders overwhelmingly accepted it, tendering 1.5 million of 2.2 million outstanding shares.

"The outcome," explains Dr. Austin, "demonstrated the feelings of K.V.P. shareholders: a very substantial, majority vote of 'no confidence.' Since 1.5 million shares were tendered at the amazingly low premium, when Brown only desired 1.1 million shares, it seems clear that the shareholders were rejecting the right of the incumbent management to continue."

Both shareholders and managements can learn something from this case.

According to Dr. Austin, the shareholders' lack of confidence in K.V.P. was due mainly to the company's operating performance and because the management elected to take a neutral position at the initiation of Brown's attack.

"Research has demonstrated," he concluded, "that an aggressive stand is most necessary if management desires to remain in their position."

Lifting Body Climbs To Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Dropped from the wings of a B52 bomber, an HL10 lifting body vehicle soared at 825 miles an hour on its own to a record altitude—64,500 feet.

"Boy, this baby really climbs now," space agency pilot John A. Manke radioed as he opened all four barrels of the HL10's rocket engine Wednesday. On May 9, the HL10 set a record speed of 725 m.p.h. at 54,000 feet.

Britain Moves On Metric System

LONDON (AP) — Britain's plan to convert to the metric system moved into high gear Wednesday as the newly created metrication board set a target date of 1975 for completion of the change.

The board, a part of the Ministry of Technology, said the conversion will be particularly important to Britain if it succeeds in entering the Common Market, where all the member countries use metric measurements.

Britain is also changing to decimal currency, with the conversion due to take place in February 1971.

Need Exercise To Live Longer Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a spate of books today telling us how to live to a ripe old age.

Some of them feature fad diets; others merely reiterate commonsense advice which is as old as the ancient Greek longevity prescription: "Moderation in all things."

This rather reminds one of W.C. Fields' famous cure for insomnia: "Get plenty of sleep."

However, it takes more than a simple diet, exercise and eight hours of sleep nightly to insure you'll last long enough to collect on a pension from Uncle Sam.

You have to take the right kind of exercise. Just flailing a couple of dumbbells around and bending down and touching the floor a few times is hardly enough.

Tenseness

In this tense and restless world the best exercise you can take to insure survival is to grab your nose firmly with both hands and tug it away every time it feels a temptation to stick itself into somebody else's business. Caution is a prerequisite if you want to satisfy your ambition to become the first centenarian in your neighborhood.

Here, for example, are a few invitations which, if accepted, lead down that one-way path to disaster:

"All right, men I've explained the situation. Are there any volunteers?"

"No wonder the charcoal isn't catching. You're not using enough starting fluid. Why don't you just empty the whole can on the coals?"

Guarantee

"Those two chicks at the end of the bar look like they're pining for a little action. Do you want to make a play for the tall one, and I'll cozy up to the short one?"

"If you're not sure of the road, let me take the wheel. I only had four or five drinks?"

"Of course, I could give you a written guarantee that there is no defect in the house, but don't you think my word of honor is enough?"

"We can snap it up now at a real bargain. If there is oil all around it, doesn't it stand to reason that there must be oil under it, too?"

"Race you to the raft—it can't be more than a 200-yard swim at the most."

"It's a specialty of my wife's. Here, pass your plate and let me give you some more."

"Let's join the riot. After all, you're one of the dean's pet students. He wouldn't kick you out of school."

"I'm having trouble again with my wife. Can you go home with me and help straighten it out? I'm sure she'll listen to you."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	5 ♣	5 ♥
6 ♣	6 ♥	7 ♣

Opening lead — three of hearts.

This deal ocurred in a rubber bridge game and the bidding is recorded the way it took place.

You may disagree with West's six-heart bid on such a worthless hand, but, in a sense, West was right, since South would surely have made six clubs for a score of 1,570 points and East would have gone down only three—500 points—at six hearts doubled.

North's seven club bid was also highly questionable—he should have passed the decision round to South, who presumably would know whether to double or go on—but North was afraid that if the East-West hands were as freakish as his own they might be able to make six hearts.

West led a heart and South proceeded to make the grand slam despite his apparently sure spade loser. He ruffed the heart in dummy, drew two rounds of trumps, and then cashed five diamond tricks, discarding a spade from his hand. When he now drew two more rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, this became the position:

North
♠ J 9
♣ 10

West
Immaterial

East
♠ K Q
♥ A

South
♠ A 10
♥ J

The lead of the ten of clubs then placed East in a hopeless position. If he discarded a spade, South would discard a heart; if he discarded a heart, South would discard a spade. Either way, South was bound to score the last three tricks on a squeeze.

It is interesting to note that an opening spade lead by West defeats the contract. It cuts an important link of communication between the North-South hands, and declarer eventually has to lose a spade and go down one.

Vessel Grounded Nine Years Ago Must Be Moved

LELAND (AP) — The owners of the freighter Francisco Morazon, grounded off North Manitou Island in Lake Michigan during a storm nine years ago, will be asked to move it during a hearing in Leelanau Circuit Court June 2.

Curtis Beck, assistant state attorney general, said Wednesday, "The state has filed this default motion asking the court to order the owners to remove the vessel."

"If they do not," he said, the order asks "that the owners be required to pay the state for the removal costs."

If the judgment is granted, Beck said, the vessel probably would be removed sometime this fall.

The state, in filing the suit, has cited the potential danger as a primary reason, particularly since 6,500 gallons of fuel oil are still aboard the ship.

Ann Landers

Children Object To Selling Farm Home

Dear Ann Landers: A while back you suggested that when a woman gets fed up with her husband she should sit down with a pen and a sheet of paper and divide the paper into two columns. In one column she should list her husband's desirable qualities. In the other column she should list his undesirable qualities. I did this last night and it worked wonders. Here's the way it added up:

Undesirable Qualities:

Hates to visit my relatives; does so only under pressure.

Never remembers birthdays or anniversaries.

Loathes Christmas and also claims Mother's Day is a big racket.

Insists on watching his favoriate programs on TV. (To heck with mine)

Stubborn about admitting it when he is wrong.

Admirable Qualities:

Faithful to me 100 per cent —never looks at other women or goes anywhere without me.

Personal habits — excellent. Very neat.

Makes a good living. Steady worker.

Eats everything I cook and compliments me.

Doesn't gamble.

Doesn't smoke.

Not exactly a Richard Burton in the bedroom but plenty good enough.

Yesterday when I came home from bridge club and listened to the girls gripe about their husbands, I took out my list and felt lucky. Sign me—Sunny Skies

Dear Sunny: Cheers! I hope others will take inventory when they get fed up. On balance, I'll bet they'll find more to be happy about than they thought was there.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I married a farmer and we worked shoulder to shoulder for 40 years. This is the way my mother did and I felt it was only right that a wife be a partner and help her husband in every way.

It was hard work but our farm did well. We saved our money and bought the adjoining property on both sides. All the while we raised a family, educated our children and tried to be good parents.

Two years ago my husband died at the age of 66. I am 63. Our children are married and have homes of their own. Not one of the children has any interest in helping me run the farm, yet they all screamed like eagles when I told them I was tired and seriously considering an offer to sell.

The children are sentimental about the farm, Ann, and I can understand their feelings, but I'm tired. Please tell me what to do. I'll look in the Hutchinson News for your advice and I'll follow it.—Farm Widow

Dear Widow: The children's sentimentality is not a good enough reason to keep a tired widow in the harness after 40 years of hard work. Tell the kids you are selling the farm so you can enjoy the fruits of your labors. Then do it.

* * *

Too many couples go from matrimoney to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage—What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Lanlers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self - addressed and atamped envelope.

Jeep-Truck's Safety Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is making an unprecedented inquiry into the performance of one of the Army's best-known vehicles which statistics show has killed or injured thousands of American soldiers.

The investigation of the familiar jeep-type M151 truck will be conducted by the National Highway Safety Bureau.

A spokesman said it is the first time the bureau has looked into the safety of vehicles purchased by the armed services.

The Army has purchased 123,017 of the M151s from Ford Motor Co. since 1960, at an aggregate cost of nearly $400 million.

Because of its independent rear-wheel suspension, the M151 rides more smoothly than its predecessors.

But it also tends to tip over. Incomplete Army statistics show hundreds of soldiers have been killed and thousands disabled since the vehicle came into service.

The M151's problem is called "oversteer," the same situation that made Chevrolet's Corvair a national issue several years ago. Because of the suspension system, the Army tells its drivers, the rear wheels tend to slide away from the direction of a turn, even at low speeds.

Drowns In Swim To Raft

FENTON (AP) — The body of a 15-year-old Fenton youth was recovered Friday from South Little Long Lake where the boy drowned Thursday while attempting to swim to a raft 40 yards from shore.

The victim was Harold Wilson, said the Genesee County sheriff's department which recovered the body.

Court Assessed

The appointment of U. S. Appeals Court Judge Warren Earl Burger as chief justice of the Supreme Court marks the end of the so-called Warren Court. Judge Burger, a native of St. Paul, Minn., who has devoted a lifetime to the pursuit of law, will succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren when the Supreme Court convenes next fall.

The Warren Court, now nearing the end of its 16th year, has accounted for some of the most sweeping changes in American judicial history. It seldom hesitated to march where angels fear to tread. The thorniest legal thickets failed to deter the Warren Court justices. In consequence, the court acquired a reputation as an activist body and inevitably became a center of controversy. Liberals generally hailed the Warren Court decisions while conservatives were dismayed by these same decisions. The extreme conservatives called for the impeachment of Chief Justice Warren.

No one can say exactly how history will judge the course the Warren Court has followed, but an assessment of the Warren era was the subject of a comprehensive review in a recent issue of the Michigan Law Review, published earlier this year by the University of Michigan Law School. Here are appraisals of some of the court's major decisions, as seen by contributors to that review:

* * *

The historic 1954 school desegregation decision was "a revolutionary statement" in America's race relations law "that promised more than it could give," according to Robert L. Carter, former general counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The decision "has completely altered the style, the spirit, the stance of race relations; yet the pre-existing pattern of white superiority and black subordination remains unchanged." Carter faults the court for ordering "all deliberate speed" in compliance with its decision. Instead, he said, the court should have ordered "the immediate vindication of the right that it had declared to exist."

* * *

Although there was a great public outcry over the "one man, one vote" ruling that resulted in reapportionment of state legislature and even county boards of supervisors, the ruling has been speedily and widely implemented and the protests have "faded to a whisper," in the opinion of Dean Robert B. McKay of New York University Law School.

"The mood, even among politicians, is that the decisions are acceptable; the accommodations have largely been made," he said. "It is not easy to think of any other major Supreme Court decision to which significant adjustment was so swiftly accomplished.'

* * *

The Warren Court "unalterably changed the course of the administration of criminal justice in America," wrote Dean A. Kenneth Pye of Duke University Law School, and this has been one of the areas in which it has provoked the loudest protests.

But Pye defends the court's stands in this area because, he said, "the gulf between the illusion and reality of constitutional protection has been narrowed. The quality of justice meted out to the poor closely approximates that available to the rich. In many areas we are beginning to implement rights to which we have paid lip service for decades. We have begun to remove much of the hypocrisy which characterized our criminal process. While perhaps not totally effective, court decisions do restrain police from some unlawful practices which were previously regarded as routine. A defendant is assured most of the basic procedural rights whether he is tried in a state or a federal court."

* * *

A final appraisal of the court itself is penned by Prof. Philip B. Kurland of the University of Chicago Law School; "Certainly the court must be given credit for helping to spark the Negro revolution that engulfs us at the moment. Certainly, too, the court has contributed to the egalitarian ethos that is becoming so dominent. But we do not yet know whether the court's efforts have enhanced the rule of law in our society or have diminished it.

"And ultimately, I suspect, the verdict of history will depend upon the outcome of these three manifestations of the court's business."

Brimley elementary schools will change to a non-grade K-6 system with the beginning of the fall term. Under the non-graded system, a study committee reported, slow learners, average students and those who learn rapidly all are able to achieve success at their own speeds. The program, for example, will be divided into 16 levels of reading instruction and children will be grouped according to their reading ability and will progress immediately as they complete all skills at a particular level.

A 40-acre site adjacent to the new soccer field on the Marinette County University Campus has been purchased by the Board of Supervisors for construction of a new vocational-technical school. The $35,000 cost will be divided by the county and City of Marinette. The board of the vocational-technical district has indicated its intention to locate schools in Marinette and Sturgeon Bay.

Business Take-Over Is Easy If Planned

EAST LANSING—How does a small company successfully take over another business almost twice its size in sales, assets and earnings?

It has happened in Michigan and is occurring with increasinug frequency in the business world, according to one analyst.

In fact, the tender offer is the fastest growing, most important financial phenomenon in recent years, writes Dr. Donald V. Austin in the current issue of Michigan State University's Business Topics.

Business Topics is a quarterly journal published by the Graduate School of Business Administration at MSU. Dr. Austin is an associate professor of finance at Western Michigan University.

Dr. Austin's article "Anatomy of a Tender Offer" shows how easily a take-over can be effected if the company uses a well-planned, overt attack.

The case in point is the take-over in 1965 of Michigan's largest paper company, K.V.P.-Sutherland of Kalamazoo, by the Brown Company, a firm about half K.V.P.'s size.

No Opposition

When Brown made the offer to K.V.P.'s management and stockholders, K.V.P. had assets of $110.3 million and sales of $132.5 million. In contrast, Brown had 1965 assets of $61.9 million and sales of $67.4 million.

According to the author, the take-over was easily accomplished because K.V.P. management offered no opposition to the tender.

"In essence," writes Dr. Auston, "K.V.P.'s management, by standing aside, sold out the company. David beat Goliath because Goliath was dying.

"K.V.P.'s overall financial performance (during the five years prior to the offer) was illustrative of a stagnant, unprogressive company in an old, conservative industry," explains Dr. Austin.

"By the fact that they did not oppose the offer, K.V.P.'s management," he notes, "gave tacit approval to the take-over.

"Brown's acquisition and subsequent merger with K.V.P. was indeed a bargain situation," according to Dr. Austin.

Brown offered stockholders $33 per share. The author points out that "a $33 bid price for a stock with a $30.50 market price and book value of $37.74 was not an attractive offer to K.V.P. shareholders while it was extremely attractive to Brown."

Management Rejected

Despite the unattractiveness of the offer, K. V. P. shareholders overwhelmingly accepted it, tendering 1.5 million of 2.2 million outstanding shares.

"The outcome," explains Dr. Austin, "demonstrated the feelings of K.V.P. shareholders: a very substantial, majority vote of 'no confidence.' Since 1.5 million shares were tendered at the amazingly low premium, when Brown only desired 1.1 million shares, it seems clear that the shareholders were rejecting the right of the incumbent management to continue."

Both shareholders and managements can learn something from this case.

According to Dr. Austin, the shareholders' lack of confidence in K.V.P. was due mainly to the company's operating performance and because the management elected to take a neutral position at the initiation of Brown's attack.

"Research has demonstrated," he concluded, "that an aggressive stand is most necessary if management desires to remain in their position."

Lifting Body Climbs To Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Dropped from the wings of a B52 bomber, an HL10 lifting body vehicle soared at 825 miles an hour on its own to a record altitude—64,500 feet.

"Boy, this baby really climbs now," space agency pilot John A. Manke radioed as he opened all four barrels of the HL10's rocket engine Wednesday. On May 9, the HL10 set a record speed of 725 m.p.h. at 54,000 feet.

Britain Moves On Metric System

LONDON (AP) — Britain's plan to convert to the metric system moved into high gear Wednesday as the newly created metrication board set a target date of 1975 for completion of the change.

The board, a part of the Ministry of Technology, said the conversion will be particularly important to Britain if it succeeds in entering the Common Market, where all the member countries use metric measurements.

Britain is also changing to decimal currency, with the conversion due to take place in February 1971.

Need Exercise To Live Longer Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a spate of books today telling us how to live to a ripe old age.

Some of them feature fad diets; others merely reiterate commonsense advice which is as old as the ancient Greek longevity prescription: "Moderation in all things."

This rather reminds one of W.C. Fields' famous cure for insomnia: "Get plenty of sleep."

However, it takes more than a simple diet, exercise and eight hours of sleep nightly to insure you'll last long enough to collect on a pension from Uncle Sam.

You have to take the right kind of exercise. Just flailing a couple of dumbbells around and bending down and touching the floor a few times is hardly enough.

Tenseness

In this tense and restless world the best exercise you can take to insure survival is to grab your nose firmly with both hands and tug it away every time it feels a temptation to stick itself into somebody else's business. Caution is a prerequisite if you want to satisfy your ambition to become the first centenarian in your neighborhood.

Here, for example, are a few invitations which, if accepted, lead down that one-way path to disaster:

"All right, men I've explained the situation. Are there any volunteers?"

"No wonder the charcoal isn't catching. You're not using enough starting fluid. Why don't you just empty the whole can on the coals?"

Guarantee

"Those two chicks at the end of the bar look like they're pining for a little action. Do you want to make a play for the tall one, and I'll cozy up to the short one?"

"If you're not sure of the road, let me take the wheel. I only had four or five drinks?"

"Of course, I could give you a written guarantee that there is no defect in the house, but don't you think my word of honor is enough?"

"We can snap it up now at a real bargain. If there is oil all around it, doesn't it stand to reason that there must be oil under it, too?"

"Race you to the raft—it can't be more than a 200-yard swim at the most."

"It's a specialty of my wife's. Here, pass your plate and let me give you some more."

"Let's join the riot. After all, you're one of the dean's pet students. He wouldn't kick you out of school."

"I'm having trouble again with my wife. Can you go home with me and help straighten it out? I'm sure she'll listen to you."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	5 ♣	5 ♥
6 ♣	6 ♥	7 ♣

Opening lead — three of hearts.

This deal ocurred in a rubber bridge game and the bidding is recorded the way it took place.

You may disagree with West's six-heart bid on such a worthless hand, but, in a sense, West was right, since South would surely have made six clubs for a score of 1,570 points and East would have gone down only three—500 points—at six hearts doubled.

North's seven club bid was also highly questionable—he should have passed the decision round to South, who presumably would know whether to double or go on—but North was afraid that if the East-West hands were as freakish as his own they might be able to make six hearts.

West led a heart and South proceeded to make the grand slam despite his apparently sure spade loser. He ruffed the heart in dummy, drew two rounds of trumps, and then cashed five diamond tricks, discarding a spade from his hand. When he now drew two more rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, this became the position:

North
♠ J 9
♣ 10

West
Immaterial

East
♠ K Q
♥ A

South
♠ A 10
♥ J

The lead of the ten of clubs then placed East in a hopeless position. If he discarded a spade, South would discard a heart; if he discarded a heart, South would discard a spade. Either way, South was bound to score the last three tricks on a squeeze.

It is interesting to note that an opening spade lead by West defeats the contract. It cuts an important link of communication between the North-South hands, and declarer eventually has to lose a spade and go down one.

Vessel Grounded Nine Years Ago Must Be Moved

LELAND (AP) — The owners of the freighter Francisco Morazon, grounded off North Manitou Island in Lake Michigan during a storm nine years ago, will be asked to move it during a hearing in Leelanau Circuit Court June 2.

Curtis Beck, assistant state attorney general, said Wednesday, "The state has filed this default motion asking the court to order the owners to remove the vessel."

"If they do not," he said, the order asks "that the owners be required to pay the state for the removal costs."

If the judgment is granted, Beck said, the vessel probably would be removed sometime this fall.

The state, in filing the suit, has cited the potential danger as a primary reason, particularly since 6,500 gallons of fuel oil are still aboard the ship.

Ann Landers

Children Object To Selling Farm Home

Dear Ann Landers: A while back you suggested that when a woman gets fed up with her husband she should sit down with a pen and a sheet of paper and divide the paper into two columns. In one column she should list her husband's desirable qualities. In the other column she should list his undesirable qualities. I did this last night and it worked wonders. Here's the way it added up:

Undesirable Qualities:

Hates to visit my relatives; does so only under pressure.

Never remembers birthdays or anniversaries.

Loathes Christmas and also claims Mother's Day is a big racket.

Insists on watching his favoriate programs on TV. (To heck with mine)

Stubborn about admitting it when he is wrong.

Admirable Qualities:

Faithful to me 100 per cent —never looks at other women or goes anywhere without me.

Personal habits — excellent. Very neat.

Makes a good living. Steady worker.

Eats everything I cook and compliments me.

Doesn't gamble.

Doesn't smoke.

Not exactly a Richard Burton in the bedroom but plenty good enough.

Yesterday when I came home from bridge club and listened to the girls gripe about their husbands, I took out my list and felt lucky. Sign me—Sunny Skies

Dear Sunny: Cheers! I hope others will take inventory when they get fed up. On balance, I'll bet they'll find more to be happy about than they thought was there.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I married a farmer and we worked shoulder to shoulder for 40 years. This is the way my mother did and I felt it was only right that a wife be a partner and help her husband in every way.

It was hard work but our farm did well. We saved our money and bought the adjoining property on both sides. All the while we raised a family, educated our children and tried to be good parents.

Two years ago my husband died at the age of 66. I am 63. Our children are married and have homes of their own. Not one of the children has any interest in helping me run the farm, yet they all screamed like eagles when I told them I was tired and seriously considering an offer to sell.

The children are sentimental about the farm, Ann, and I can understand their feelings, but I'm tired. Please tell me what to do. I'll look in the Hutchinson News for your advice and I'll follow it.—Farm Widow

Dear Widow: The children's sentimentality is not a good enough reason to keep a tired widow in the harness after 40 years of hard work. Tell the kids you are selling the farm so you can enjoy the fruits of your labors. Then do it.

Too many couples go from matrimoney to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage—What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Lanlers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Jeep-Truck's Safety Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is making an unprecedented inquiry into the performance of one of the Army's best-known vehicles which statistics show has killed or injured thousands of American soldiers.

The investigation of the familiar, jeep-type M151 truck will be conducted by the National Highway Safety Bureau.

A spokesman said it is the first time the bureau has looked into the safety of vehicles purchased by the armed services.

The Army has purchased 123,017 of the M151s from Ford Motor Co. since 1960, at an aggregate cost of nearly $400 million.

Because of its independent rear-wheel suspension, the M151 rides more smoothly than its predecessors.

But it also tends to tip over. Incomplete Army statistics show hundreds of soldiers have been killed and thousands disabled since the vehicle came into service.

The M151's problem is called "oversteer," the same situation that made Chevrolet's Corvair a national issue several years ago. Because of the suspension system, the Army tells its drivers, the rear wheels tend to slide away from the direction of a turn, even at low speeds.

Drowns In Swim To Raft

FENTON (AP) — The body of a 15-year-old Fenton youth was recovered Friday from South Little Long Lake where the boy drowned Thursday while attempting to swim to a raft 40 yards from shore.

The victim was Harold Wilson, said the Genesee County sheriff's department which recovered the body.

Air Force Wife Has A 'New Look'

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — An Air Force sergeant returning home from a year's tour of duty in Thailand Thursday may find the face in the crowd at the airport familiar—but not the body.

When S. Sgt. Cleamon Faulkner left his wife, Betty, weighed 340 pounds, had measurements of 55-48-68 and wore a 32½ dress.

When he steps off the plane he will be looking for a 38-30-39 figure on a woman who weighs 160 pounds.

"I'll be wearing the best looking pants outfit I can find, and I'm going to wear big sunglasses and stand next to a couple who will be waiting for someone else," Mrs. Faulkner said. "I want to see if he can find me."

She said her husband of 10 years has never seen her when she weighed less than 240 pounds "and he has never seen me in slacks—never."

Mrs. Faulkner, 32, said she had consulted many doctors about her weight but they all said her problem was eating too much.

Then a doctor discovered she had a thyroid problem. As treatment she went on a low carbohydrate diet and lost 180 pounds in 10 months.

Outdoor Writers Meet June 5-8 At Blaney Park

The largest attendance at any meeting of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association is expected next week when that group holds its 25th anniversary gathering at Blaney Park in Schoolcraft County.

Plans are being made to accommodate about 200 members and guests during the June 5-8 meeting.

Blaney Park was chosen as the site of the silver anniversary meeting because it was there the MOWA was organized in 1944 by a small group of outdoor driters. The organization now has a membership of about 150 newspaper, radio, television and public relations writers from throughout the state.

Commission Meeting

Among the highlights of the meeting will be an address by Dr. Ray Johnson, Washington, D.C., director of research for the U.S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife, and the regular June meeting of the Michigan Natural Resources Commission.

Johnson is an expert on pesticides in their relationship to sport fishing and will address the writers on this topic.

Field Trips Planned

The Natural Resources Commission re-scheduled its regular monthly meeting to permit commissioners to meet with the outdoor writers.

Activities scheduled during the four-day meeting include field trips to the Cusino Wildlife Research Station at Shingleton and the Seney National Wildlife Refuge and sport fishing trips to widely scattered parts of the Upper Peninsula.

A historical marker designating Blaney Park as the site of the founding of MOWA will be dedicated during the meeting.

Don Gillies, Detroit, former outdoor editor of the Detroit Times and one of the founders of MOWA, is chairman for the anniversary meeting.

President of the MOWA is Robert S. Marshall, West Branch, publisher of the Ogemaw County Herald.

Chiefs Beat Engadine, 11-3

The Manistique Chiefs opened their 1969 season by defeating Engadine 11-3 in a game played at Cardinal Field on Wednesday. Manistique made eleven runs on seven hits while Engadine scored three runs on on one hit.

Kurt Prond and Gary Sample each hit two baggers. Singles were hit by John Adams, Russ King, Ade Lockwood, Jerry Sample and Ken Neeson. King was the winning pitcher while Schutt took the loss. Neeson and Chris Johnson also saw action on the mound for the Chiefs.

The Chiefs will open regular Waubung League play on Sunday when they meet Schaffer in a game starting at 2 at Cardinal Field.

Douglas Bennetts Are Parents Of Triplets

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bennett, 309 Lake St., announce the birth of triplets — two girls and a boy — born at Memorial Hospital in Iron Mountain on May 27. The first baby was born 13 hours before her brother and sister.

Mary Helen weighed in at three pounds two and one-half ounces at 3:30 a.m.; Frances Fay arrived at 4:25 p.m. and weighed four pounds, eleven ounces; David Alvin was born at 5:06 p.m. and tipped the scales at five pounds, thirteen ounces.

The Bennett family has lived in Manistique since March when he became manager of the Shunk Appliance and Furniture Store on U.S. 2, east. They came here from Iron Mountain. They are also the parents of four other children, all boys: Richard, 20; James, 18; Paul, 14; and David, 11.

They are also grandparents since Richard is married and the father of a baby daughter.

The condition of the triplets is satisfactory, according to hospital officials.

Mrs. Bennett is the former Helen Olson of Iron Mountain.

Hentschells Building Office

Ground was broken last week and construction is underway on a new 30 x 60 building to house the Savings Insurance Agency.

Owner-agent Bill Hentschell and son Bill, home on leave from the Navy, turned the first shovel of earth on the lot located between the Kiddie Shop and the Gift Mart on Cedar St.

The newest addition to Manistique's downtown business district will feature a stone front with three-split shingle awning. Hentschell said construction should be completed somtime in July.

Bill Hentschell Jr. will come into the Agency with his father afte. his discharge from service and completion of college. He leaves Manistique June 3 for Vietnam where he will serve as a marine corpsman with the Third Marine Division.

The Savings Insurance Agency is presently located on Maple Ave. Hentschell purchased the business (mostly old-line stock companies) from the State Savings Bank in January of 1962.

His father, the late R. G. Hentschell, was associated with the business until his death in October of 1967. The present agency staff consists of Beverly A. Jahn, manager-agent; Lillian G. Lindberg, cashier; Betty Smethurst, solicitor; Mabel E. Patz, secretary; Jane Aller, parttime secretary; and owner-agent Hentschell.

Air Force Wife Has A 'New Look'

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — An Air Force sergeant returning home from a year's tour of duty in Thailand Thursday may find the face in the crowd at the airport familiar—but not the body.

When S. Sgt. Cleamon Faulkner left his wife, Betty, weighed 340 pounds, had measurements of 55-48-68 and wore a 32½ dress.

When he steps off the plane he will be looking for a 38-30-39 figure on a woman who weighs 160 pounds.

"I'll be wearing the best looking pants outfit I can find, and I'm going to wear big sunglasses and stand next to a couple who will be waiting for someone else," Mrs. Faulkner said. "I want to see if he can find me."

She said her husband of 10 years has never seen her when she weighed less than 240 pounds "and he has never seen me in slacks—never."

Mrs. Faulkner, 32, said she had consulted many doctors about her weight but they all said her problem was eating too much.

Then a doctor discovered she had a thyroid problem. As treatment she went on a low carbohydrate diet and lost 180 pounds in 10 months.

WHAT ABOUT DANGERS?

SYDNEY (AP) — There's a book club in Sydney where members are encouraged to attempt public speaking.

One young woman was pretty hopeless, but was persuaded to try again with the subject "The Dangers of Drug-Taking." She was fluent, and the members asked how she had overcome her nervousness.

"I'm not sure," she replied, "but I did take a couple of pep pills before I began."

Outdoor Writers Meet June 5-8 At Blaney Park

The largest attendance at any meeting of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association is expected next week when that group holds its 25th anniversary gathering at Blaney Park in Schoolcraft County.

Plans are being made to accommodate about 200 members and guests during the June 5-8 meeting.

Blaney Park was chosen as the site of the silver anniversary meeting because it was there the MOWA was organized in 1944 by a small group of outdoor driters. The organization now has a membership of about 150 newspaper, radio, television and public relations writers from throughout the state.

Commission Meeting

Among the highlights of the meeting will be an address by Dr. Ray Johnson, Washington, D.C., director of research for the U.S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife, and the regular June meeting of the Michigan Natural Resources Commission.

Johnson is an expert on pesticides in their relationship to sport fishing ano will address the writers on this topic.

Field Trips Planned

The Natural Resources Commission re-scheduled its regular monthly meeting to permit commissioners to meet with the outdoor writers.

Activities scheduled during the four-day meeting include field trips to the Cusino Wildlife Research Station at Shingleton and the Seney National Wildlife Refuge and sport fishing trips to widely scattered parts of the Upper Peninsula.

A historical marker desinating Blaney Park as the site of the founding of MOWA will be dedicated during the meeting.

Don Gillies, Detroit, former outdoor editor of the Detroit Times and one of the founders of MOWA, is chairman for the anniversary meeting.

President of the MOWA is Robert S. Marshall, West Branch, publisher of the Ogemaw County Herald.

Douglas Bennetts Are Parents Of Triplets

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bennett, 309 Lake St., announce the birth of triplets — two girls and a boy — born at Memorial Hospital in Iron Mountain on May 27. The first baby was born 13 hours before her brother and sister.

Mary Helen weighed in at three pounds two and one-half ounces at 3:30 a.m.; Frances Fay arrived at 4:25 p.m. and weighed four pounds, eleven ounces; David Alvin was born at 5:06 p.m. and tipped the scales at five pounds, thirteen ounces.

The Bennett family has lived in Manistique since March when he became manager of the Shunk Appliance and Furniture Store on U.S. 2, east. They came here from Iron Mountain. They are also the parents of four other children, all boys: Richard, 20; James, 18; Paul, 14; and David, 11.

They are also grandparents since Richard is married and the father of a baby daughter.

The condition of the triplets is satisfactory, according to hospital officials.

Mrs. Bennett is the former Helen Olson of Iron Mountain.

Hentschells Building Office

Ground was broken last week and construction is underway on a new 30 x 60 building to house the Savings Insurance Agency.

Owner-agent Bill Hentschell and son Bill, home on leave from the Navy, turned the first shovel of earth on the lot located between the Kiddie Shop and the Gift Mart on Cedar St.

The newest addition to Manistique's downtown business district will feature a stone front with three-split shingle awning. Hentschell said construction should be completed somtime in July.

Bill Hentschell Jr. will come into the Agency with his father afte. his discharge from service and completion of college. He leaves Manistique June 3 for Vietnam where he will serve as a marine corpsman with the Third Marine Division.

The Savings Insurance Agency is presently located on Maple Ave. Hentschell purchased the business (mostly old-line stock companies) from the State Savings Bank in January of 1962.

His father, the late R. G. Hentschell, was associated with the business until his death in October of 1967. The present agency staff consists of Beverly A. Jahn, manager-agent; Lillian G. Lindberg, cashier; Betty Smethurst, solicitor; Mabel E. Patz, secretary; Jane Aller, parttime secretary; and owner-agent Hentschell.

Canada Planning To Pull Out Its NATO Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, returning from a week of North Atlantic Treaty Organization meetings, said today he hopes a proposed Canadian troop withdrawal would not have a "snowballing effect" on Congress or the U.S. commitment to NATO.

Commenting on Canada's plan to withdraw two-thirds of its 10,000 troops in Europe, Laird said, "I hope it will be reviewed by the Canadian government.

"I don't think this is the time to reduce our forces in Europe . . . President Nixon has said we are moving from a period of confrontation to a period of negotiation."

The Nixon administration intends to maintain its NATO commitments at the same level, Laird said.

"But Congress makes the decisions," he added. "I hope we can move forward. I hope this does not have a snowballing effect in our Congress."

The Canadian action has been viewed disapprovingly by U.S. officials concerned over the effort to keep NATO defenses strong—and not just because of its potential unraveling impact on other allies.

There have been calls within the United States for a withdrawal of a sizeable chunk of the American force now in Europe. Proposals for a U.S. pullout, widely aired in the Senate before the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia last August, are cropping up again.

Laird said little today about the question of British-West German guidelines presented in London that called for the early use of nuclear battlefield weapons in a European conflict. He said this question will be taken up again in the November NATO meeting in Washington.

Fire Pictures Win Award

By The Associated Press

Looking out the window of his office, Garrett Cope, a photographer with 32 years at the Jackson Citizen-Patriot, could see smoke pouring from a bowling alley in downtown Jackson.

He raced to the scene, snapped several pictures of firemen fighting the blaze and hurried back to his office to get his work into the day's paper.

Then he returned to the fire to take more pictures, four of which today earned him first prize in both the news category and overall in the annual Michigan Press News Photo Contest.

The contest winners were announced by Art Gallagher, editor of the Ann Arbor News and chairman of the Michigan AP News Photo Contest Committee.

Cope's series of pictures, called "Fighting for Their Lives," showed Jackson firemen struggling to get out and to get their comrades out of smoke-filled burning building. One fireman was killed and several were overcome with smoke in fighting the bblaze last July.

"I was standing on a fire truck about five or six feet from the fire escape where they were bringing the firemen out," Cope recalled. "I got knocked down several times by blasts of smoke.

"The smoke would come out, belch out, and you couldn't breath."

Almon McCall, editor of the Grand Haven Tribune, won first prize overall for newspaper members with circulation under 10,000 for his "Jaws of Winter".

McCall's photograph shows the Grand Haven lighthouse in the background framed by a bridge of ice and snow with icicles hanging from it like the teeth of a giant mammoth.

McCall won first prize last year in the same category for a shot entitled "Moody Lake Michian."

A picture of Denny McLain, pitching in towards his 30th victory won first prize in the sports category for Tony Spina, chief photographer of the Detroit Free Press.

Governor Backs Kelley's Charge

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken Thursday defended Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley against charges that he was stalling in probing payoff accusations against a state appeals judge.

The charges against Kelley, a Democrat, were leveled by State Sen. George W. Kuhn, a conservative Republican from West Bloomfield Township, in a letter to Milliken two days earlier.

The accusations which Kuhn says Kelley was slow to follow up were made by Peter Lazarus, who turned informer on the Mafia last October, against State Appeals Judge S. Jerome Bronson.

Lazarus is a self-described Oakland County crime king and Bronson is a former prosecuting attorney for that county.

Kuhn had previously threatened to call for a Senate investigation of Kelley because he refused to act even though — he claimed — the State Police had enough evidence for warrants.

Investigation resulting from Lazarus' other charges have resulted in six indictments against reputed Mafia leaders and an associate. No warrants have been issued against public officials despite Lazarus' reported accusations against a number of them.

According to latest measurements, the earth is between two and five billion years old.

THE MORLEY-MURPHY CO. building in the 400 block, Ludington St., may become the Escanaba City Hall if the City Council gives the go-ahead on negotiations. The proposal includes an exchange of property which would give Morley-Murphy (wholesale hardware distributors) a location nearer trunkline highways. City Hall In Hardware Building?

City, Morley-Murphy To Discuss Exchange

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Will the Morley-Murphy Co. building (formerly the home of the Delta Hardware Co.) in the 400 block, Ludington St., become Escanaba's "new" city hall?

The idea has been kicking around in the minds of the planners for several years, ever since Bartholomew Associates did a planning study for the city and recommended the east end of the city for development as a complex housing governmental agencies.

Then the Escanaba Planning Commission, after "many, many months of informal talks" recommended at a recent meeting that the city look into the "possibility of an exchange of property with Morley-Murphy for the use of the present Morley-Murphy building as a possible city hall," reports City Manager George Harvey.

Under One Roof

The Commission's recommendation was duly reported to the public by the Daily Press and the City Council will receive the recommendation for consideration on June 5.

Harvey in informing the Council of the developments, asks the Council to discuss the matter and if possible direct him "as to whether this should be pursued."

"Prior to the city's erecting an equipment building and stock room, there was some talk of housing city operations in the Morley-Murphy structure because there was considerable office space that would put all city offices under one roof, and with the warehouse of Morley-Murphy on 1st Ave. N., there was a strong possibility that the city could house its equipment there," said Harvey.

Nothing came of that, and the city constructed an equipment building.

Based On Assumption

"As the city's downtown development plan was presented by Bartholomew Associates, the location of the Morley-Murphy property was designated for future use as a government civic center with possible relocation of city operations and a library building," the city manager has advised the Council.

Harvey said that he has never talked to Morley-Murphy officials about the proposal, and his report is based on the assumption that "Morley-Murphy would be agreeable to an exchange."

Further discussing the proposal, Harvey said there is concern for continuing railroad spur service to Morley-Murphy; and that relocation of the wholesale business to an industrial area may be beneficial to them.

He said that from his observations, Morley-Murphy's operations appeared to be "somewhat curtailed" here with changes in wholesaling and distributing in the past decade.

Move To Green Bay?

"They (Morley - Murphy) have relocated personnel and certain divisions to the home office in Green Bay. At the same time, they have built a new building in Green Bay which looks to me as though it could house their entire operation," Harvey noted.

"For this reason, I have been reluctant and fearful of discussions with Morley-Murphy for it could be that they would perhaps prefer to operate wholly out of their Green Bay headquarters, which could result in loss to Escanaba," Harvey said.

However, if this apprehension is unfounded, then the city manager said he wants to look at it from the standpoint of gain to the city if the Morley-Murphy property became available.

Suggests Talks

The building appears large enough to house practically all of the Escanaba's city offices, he said.

But Morley-Murphy appears to have plans of its own to utilize the large building which occupies about three-quarters of the 400 block between Ludington and 1st Ave. N. They are considering opening the unused space to offices for professional people.

"I see no harm in approaching the Morley-Murphy people to determine their plans for the future and to discuss the situation to learn whether or not such a proposal is feasible to both parties," said Harvey. From that conversation it could be determined if the proposal can be pursued.

Liquor Hearing Scheduled Here

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission will hold a public meeting at 10 a.m. Monday, June 16, at the State Office Building in Escanaba.

State law provides that two such meetings shall be held each year for the purpose of hearing complaints and receiving the views of the public in regard to the administration of the Liquor Control Act. All government and enforcement officials, licensees, and any other persons interested in the operation of the Liquor Control Commission are welcome to attend.

Members of the Commission will conduct the meeting and a discussion of the Liquor Law and its administration will be followed by a question and answer period in which the public will be invited to participate.

Arms Control Before ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore says it is "entirely possible" U.S. arms control talks with the Soviet Union will begin before the Senate opens debate on the hotly contested Safeguard missile defense program.

The Senate showdown is expected to start late in June—and it could run most of the summer.

Gore, the Tennesseean Democrat who heads the Senate disarmament subcommittee, indicated in an interview he had heard new reports on administration plans for the long-awaited arms talks.

But he said there was nothing he could publicly disclose.

"There's no reason that I know of why the talks shouldn't get started," said Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

Gore, like other critics of President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense plan, wants it dropped while the United States seeks to negotiate an arms control agreement with the Soviet Union.

A. Powell III, Bride To Tour Europe, Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newlyweds Adam Clayton Powell III and socialite writer Beryl Slocum plan to honeymoon in Europe and visit Moscow, then make a trip to the island of Bimini.

Powell, 22, son of the Negro congressman from New York, married Miss Slocum in a chapel at Washington Cathedral Friday.

Miss Slocum, 26, is white and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Slocum, members of a family long socially prominent in Rhode Island. She is a former debutante and Radcliffe graduate.

Powell, who graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a major in political science, is a producer of Columbia Broadcasting System news shows.

The couple met at a party in New York and previously were quoted as saying they felt there would be no problem in their interracial marriage. They plan to make their home in New York.

Democratic Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. wore his robes as a Baptist minister to the cathedral and led the couple in private prayers in a room adjacent to the chapel. Miss Slocum joined Powell's Baptist Abyssinian Church in New York last year.

The congressman's wedding gift is a round trip to Bimini, where he lived most of the time in recent years when court action kept him out of New York City.

Telegrams Bring POW Letters

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The letters stopped in October. Sybil Stockdale didn't notice until February, when she still hadn't gotten a Christmas note she expected from her husband, a prisoner of war in North Vietnam since 1965.

She checked with other prisoners' wives.

"No one had had any mail since October," she said Friday in an interview. "I then asked the women to write to me if they wanted to send a telegram, and I would suggest dates so the wires would be spaced."

So began a flood of 200 telegrams to Xuan Thuy, North Vietnam's chief peace negotiator in Paris, pleading to know whether husbands were dead or alive and how they were being treated.

Then, at the end of April, some of the wives started getting letters again. Mrs. Stockdale got one May 2 from Navy pilot Capt. James Bond Stockdale.

He wrote that he was fine, told her not to worry and included a message for their children.

She knows of 75 letters received since the telegram campaign started. All were written during October and November.

"They must have been held some place for some time and maybe the telegrams . . . encouraged them (the North Vietnamese) to let the letters out," she said.

The campaign continues. At intervals Mrs. Stockdale suggests, wives pepper Xuan Thuy with 15 to 20 telegrams a week. Each wife writes and pays for her own wire. The cost depends upon wordage. Mrs. Stockdale sent one that cost $10.35 for 53 words.

Enough wives are participating to have telegrams scheduled into September.

As Xuan Thuy's desk piles higher, Mrs. Stockdale hopes the North Vietnamese will be persuaded to release a list of all prisoners telling which are still alive.

"For a family not to know whether a husband is alive or dead for three or four or five years is completely inhumane," she said. "For the North Vietnamese not to send out a list completely contradicts any of their claims to being a humane country."

Sentimental Cattle Drive

BLUEWATER, N.M. (AP) — A cattle drive apparently organized more for sentimental reasons than good ranch economics was set to start today and some of the old cowhands were chuckling over the frills laid on for the 160-mile trip.

Some 750 head of Charolais cattle, a French breed, have been trucked here from Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma and Colorado for the drive to pasture lands in neighboring Colorado.

The affair's 12 veteran cowboys, some of whom date their first drives to World War I, were shaking their heads about the drive, a vanishing part of the Old West.

These days cattle are usually moved by truck or train.

Dudes, as city folk are scornfully known in cow country, are being permitted to accompany the drive. Tents and cots are being packed for their comfort.

Even a professional chef has been hired to run the chuck wagon, a truck that includes a deep freeze and a special power unit to run it.

The route follows dirt back roads, and many trucks will go with the drive so that dudes who get saddlesore can switch to gasoline-driven mounts.

But for the cowhands and horse wranglers who will sleep under the stars, it will be the same tough ride as always. They will spend up to 15 hours on horseback on some days during the two-week drive to the pasture area just south of Pagosa Springs, Colo.

Teaching-Aide Program OK'd

Menominee County Intermediate School Superintendent Floyd Paronto today announced the approval and funding of a teaching-aide project submitted under the provisions of the Elemenary-Secondary Education Act, Title VI-A.

The project calls for voluntary teaching-aides to see selected children at their schools on an individual one to one basis several times a week to help them in completing assignments from their teachers.

Similar programs have shown that some children experiencing difficulty in learning make signficant progress when they are given additional support and repetition of instruction, Paronto said.

Screening and selection of the children will be carried out this summer. The enlistment of aides and their orientation is now under way. Aides who will participate without pay will be reembursed for materials, transportation and other expenses incurred.

Canada Planning To Pull Out Its NATO Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, returning from a week of North Atlantic Treaty Organization meetings, said today he hopes a proposed Canadian troop withdrawal would not have a "snowballing effect" on Congress or the U.S. commitment to NATO.

Commenting on Canada's plan to withdraw two-thirds of its 10,000 troops in Europe, Laird said, "I hope it will be reviewed by the Canadian government.

"I don't think this is the time to reduce our forces in Europe . . . President Nixon has said we are moving from a period of confrontation to a period of negotiation."

The Nixon administration intends to maintain its NATO commitments at the same level, Laird said.

"But Congress makes the decisions," he added. "I hope we can move forward. I hope this does not have a snowballing effect in our Congress."

The Canadian action has been viewed disapprovingly by U.S. officials concerned over the effort to keep NATO defenses strong—and not just because of its potential unraveling impact on other allies.

There have been calls within the United States for a withdrawal of a sizeable chunk of the American force now in Europe. Proposals for a U.S. pullout, widely aired in the Senate before the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia last August, are cropping up again.

Laird said little today about the question of British-West German guidelines presented in London that called for the early use of nuclear battlefield weapons in a European conflict. He said this question will be taken up again in the November NATO meeting in Washington.

Fire Pictures Win Award

By The Associated Press

Looking out the window of his office, Garrett Cope, a photographer with 32 years at the Jackson Citizen-Patriot, could see smoke pouring from a bowling alley in downtown Jackson.

He raced to the scene, snapped several pictures of firemen fighting the blaze and hurried back to his office to get his work into the day's paper.

Then he returned to the fire to take more pictures, four of which today earned him first prize in both the news category and overall in the annual Michigan Press News Photo Contest.

The contest winners were announced by Art Gallagher, editor of the Ann Arbor News and chairman of the Michigan AP News Photo Contest Committee.

Cope's series of pictures, called "Fighting for Their Lives," showed Jackson firemen struggling to get out and to get their comrades out of smoke-filled burning building. One fireman was killed and several were overcome with smoke in fighting the bblaze last July.

"I was standing on a fire truck about five or six feet from the fire escape where they were bringing the firemen out," Cope recalled. "I got knocked down several times by blasts of smoke.

"The smoke would come out, belch out, and you couldn't breath."

Almon McCall, editor of the Grand Haven Tribune, won first prize overall for newspaper members with circulation under 10,000 for his "Jaws of Winter".

McCall's photograph shows the Grand Haven lighthouse in the background framed by a bridge of ice and snow with icicles hanging from it like the teeth of a giant mammoth.

McCall won first prize last year in the same category for a shot entitled "Moody Lake Michian."

A picture of Denny McLain, pitching in towards his 30th victory won first prize in the sports category for Tony Spina, chief photographer of the Detroit Free Press.

Governor Backs Kelley's Charge

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken Thursday defended Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley against charges that he was stalling in probing payoff accusations against a state appeals judge.

The charges against Kelley, a Democrat, were leveled by State Sen. George W. Kuhn, a conservative Republican from West Bloomfield Township, in a letter to Milliken two days earlier.

The accusations which Kuhn says Kelley was slow to follow up were made by Peter Lazarus, who turned informer on the Mafia last October, against State Appeals Judge S. Jerome Bronson.

Lazarus is a self - described Oakland County crime king and Bronson is a former prosecuting attorney for that county.

Kuhn had previously threatened to call for a Senate investigation of Kelley because he refused to act even though — he claimed — the State Police had enough evidence for warrants.

Investigation resulting from Lazarus' other charges have resulted in six indictments against reputed Mafia leaders and an associate. No warrants have been issued against public officials despite Lazarus' reported accusations against a number of them.

According to latest measurements, the earth is between two and five billion years old.

THE MORLEY-MURPHY CO. building in the 400 block, Ludington St., may become the Escanaba City Hall if the City Council gives the go-ahead on negotiations. The proposal includes an exchange of property which would give Morley-Murphy (wholesale hardware distributors) a location nearer trunkline highways. The building was purchased by Morley-Murphy from the Delta Hardware Co. (Daily Press Photo)

City Hall In Hardware Building?

City, Morley-Murphy To Discuss Exchange

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Will the Morley-Murphy Co. building (formerly the home of the Delta Hardware Co.) in the 400 block, Ludington St., become Escanaba's "new" city hall?

The idea has been kicking around in the minds of the planners for several years, ever since Bartholomew Associates did a planning study for the city and recommended the east end of the city for development as a complex housing governmental agencies.

Then the Escanaba Planning Commission, after "many, many months of informal talks" recommended at a recent meeting that the city look into the "possibility of an exchange of property with Morley-Murphy for the use of the present Morley-Murphy building as a possible city hall," reports City Manager George Harvey.

Under One Roof

The Commission's recommendation was duly reported to the public by the Daily Press and the City Council will receive the recommendation for consideration on June 5.

Harvey in informing the Council of the developments, asks the Council to discuss the matter and if possible direct him "as to whether this should be pursued."

"Prior to the city's erecting an equipment building and stock room, there was some talk of housing city operations in the Morley-Murphy structure because there was considerable office space that would put all city offices under one roof, and with the warehouse of Morley-Murphy on 1st Ave. N., there was a strong possibility that the city could house its equipment there," said Harvey.

Nothing came of that, and the city constructed an equipment building.

Based On Assumption

"As the city's downtown development plan was presented by Bartholomew Associates, the location of the Morley-Murphy property was designated for future use as a government civic center with possible relocation of city operations and a library building," the city manager has advised the Council.

Harvey said that he has never talked to Morley-Murphy officials about the proposal, and his report is based on the assumption that "Morley-Murphy would be agreeable to an exchange."

Further discussing the proposal, Harvey said there is concern for continuing railroad spur service to Morley-Murphy; and that relocation of the wholesale business to an industrial area may be beneficial to them.

He said that from his observations, Morley - Murphy's operations appeared to be "somewhat curtailed" here with changes in wholesaling and distributing in the past decade.

Move To Green Bay?

"They (Morley - Murphy) have relocated personnel and certain divisions to the home office in Green Bay. At the same time, they have built a new building in Green Bay which looks to me as though it could house their entire operation," Harvey noted.

"For this reason, I have been reluctant and fearful of discussions with Morley-Murphy for it could be that they would perhaps prefer to operate wholly out of their Green Bay headquarters, which could result in loss to Escanaba," Harvey said.

However, if this apprehension is unfounded, then the city manager said he wants to look at it from the standpoint of gain to the city if the Morley-Murphy property became available.

Suggests Talks

The building appears large enough to house practically all of the Escanaba's city offices, he said.

But Morley-Murphy appears to have plans of its own to utilize the large building which occupies about three-quarters of the 400 block between Ludington and 1st Ave. N. They are considering opening the unused space to offices for professional people.

"I see no harm in approaching the Morley-Murphy people to determine their plans for the future and to discuss the situation to learn whether or not such a proposal is feasible to both parties," said Harvey. From that conversation it could be determined if the proposal can be pursued.

A. W. Biendarra, 66, Of Green Bay, Claimed By Death

Arthur W. Biendarra of 519 Roy Ave., Green Bay, died at 7:15 a.m. Friday at a Green Bay hospital, where he had been a patient one day. He had been in failing health for several years and was 66 years old.

Biendarra was formerly manager of the Fairmont Creamery in Escanaba for many years.

Natalie Wood Wed On Friday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Natalie Wood carried a sheaf of wheat and wore a white cotton gown as she married Richard Gregson in a traditional Russian Orthodox ceremony.

It was the second marriage for both the 39-year-old British producer and the 30-year-old actress, who is of Russian descent and was born Natasha Gurdin. Miss Wood was divorced from actor Robert Wagner in 1962.

Celebrities at the ceremony Friday at the Holy Virgin Mary Church included Julie Christie, Warren Beatty, David Niven, Gregory Peck and Anthony Newley.

The couple plans to live in Los Angeles and London after a European honeymoon.

Liquor Hearing Scheduled Here

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission will hold a public meeting at 10 a.m. Monday, June 16, at the State Office Building in Escanaba.

State law provides that two such meetings shall be held each year for the purpose of hearing complaints and receiving the views of the public in regard to the administration of the Liquor Control Act. All government and enforcement officials, licensees, and any other persons interested in the operation of the Liquor Control Commission are welcome to attend.

Members of the Commission will conduct the meeting and a discussion of the Liquor Law and its administration will be followed by a question and answer period in which the public will be invited to participate.

Arms Control Before ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore says it is "entirely possible" U.S. arms control talks with the Soviet Union will begin before the Senate opens debate on the hotly contested Safeguard missile defense program.

The Senate showdown is expected to start late in June—and it could run most of the summer.

Gore, the Tennesseean Democrat who heads the Senate disarmament subcommittee, indicated in an interview he had heard new reports on administration plans for the long-awaited arms talks.

But he said there was nothing he could publicly disclose.

"There's no reason that I know of why the talks shouldn't get started," said Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

Gore, like other critics of President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense plan, wants it dropped while the United States seeks to negotiate an arms control agreement with the Soviet Union.

A. Powell III, Bride To Tour Europe, Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newlyweds Adam Clayton Powell III and socialite writer Beryl Slocum plan to honeymoon in Europe and visit Moscow, then make a trip to the island of Bimini.

Powell, 22, son of the Negro congressman from New York, married Miss Slocum in a chapel at Washington Cathedral Friday.

Miss Slocum, 26, is white and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Slocum, members of a family long socially prominent in Rhode Island. She is a former debutante and Radcliffe graduate.

Powell, who graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a major in political science, is a producer of Columbia Broadcasting System news shows.

The couple met at a party in New York and previously were quoted as saying they felt there would be no problem in their interracial marriage. They plan to make their home in New York.

Democratic Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. wore his robes as a Baptist minister to the cathedral and led the couple in private prayers in a room adjacent to the chapel. Miss Slocum joined Powell's Baptist Abyssinian Church in New York last year.

The congressman's wedding gift is a round trip to Bimini, where he lived most of the time in recent years when court action kept him out of New York City.

Telegrams Bring POW Letters

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The letters stopped in October. Sybil Stockdale didn't notice until February, when she still hadn't gotten a Christmas note she expected from her husband, a prisoner of war in North Vietnam since 1965.

She checked with other prisoners' wives.

"No one had had any mail since October," she said Friday in an interview. "I then asked the women to write to me if they wanted to send a telegram, and I would suggest dates so the wires would be spaced."

So began a flood of 200 telegrams to Xuan Thuy, North Vietnam's chief peace negotiator in Paris, pleading to know whether husbands were dead or alive and how they were being treated.

Then, at the end of April, some of the wives started getting letters again. Mrs. Stockdale got one May 2 from Navy pilot Capt. James Bond Stockdale.

He wrote that he was fine, told her not to worry and included a message for their children.

She knows of 75 letters received since the telegram campaign started. All were written during October and November.

"They must have been held some place for some time and maybe the telegrams . . . encouraged them (the North Vietnamese) to let the letters out," she said.

The campaign continues. At intervals Mrs. Stockdale suggests, wives pepper Xuan Thuy with 15 to 20 telegrams a week. Each wife writes and pays for her own wire. The cost depends upon wordage. Mrs. Stockdale sent one that cost $10.35 for 53 words.

Enough wives are participating to have telegrams scheduled into September.

As Xuan Thuy's desk piles higher, Mrs. Stockdale hopes the North Vietnamese will be persuaded to release a list of all prisoners telling which are still alive.

"For a family not to know whether a husband is alive or dead for three or four or five years is completely inhumane," she said. "For the North Vietnamese not to send out a list completely contradicts any of their claims to being a humane country."

Sentimental Cattle Drive

BLUEWATER, N.M. (AP) — A cattle drive apparently organized more for sentimental reasons than good ranch economics was set to start today and some of the old cowhands were chuckling over the frills laid on for the 160-mile trip.

Some 750 head of Charolais cattle, a French breed, have been trucked here from Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma and Colorado for the drive to pasture lands in neighboring Colorado.

The affair's 12 veteran cowboys, some of whom date their first drives to World War I, were shaking their heads about the drive, a vanishing part of the Old West.

These days cattle are usually moved by truck or train.

Dudes, as city folk are scornfully known in cow country, are being permitted to accompany the drive. Tents and cots are being packed for their comfort.

Even a professional chef has been hired to run the chuck wagon, a truck that includes a deep freeze and a special power unit to run it.

The route follows dirt back roads, and many trucks will go with the drive so that dudes who get saddlesore can switch to gasoline-driven mounts.

But for the cowhands and horse wranglers who will sleep under the stars, it will be the same tough ride as always. They will spend up to 15 hours on horseback on some days during the two-week drive to the pasture area just south of Pagosa Springs, Colo.

Andretti Wins Indy 500 Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mario Andretti, who has been racing automobiles since he was 13 years old in Italy, never grew much bigger, but he found a great equalizer in the 53rd 500-mile race Friday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 5-foot-6 charger, twice U.S. Auto Club champion and never worse than second in the last four years, knows a couple of great craftsmen named Clint Brawner and Jim McGee in Phoenix, Ariz.

The Hawk-Ford put together by Brawner and McGee was running away Friday at the end of the world's richest auto race.

Just how much the 29-year-old Nazareth, Pa., driver won won't be known until the traditional victory dinner tonight. The prize money, based on an undisclosed crowd, may give the winner as much as $200,000.

Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., won more than $177,000 for victory last year. He did a colossal job of driving a Lola-Offenhauser to third place Friday after having to change seven tires and make two additional pit stops besides the mandatory three.

Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Celif., who builds the All American Eagle-Fords, put one of his stock-block creations into second place for the second time in two years.

Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., perennial U.S. midget car racing champion despite the loss of part of one hand in a racing wreck, finished fourth in a Gerhardt-Offenhauser and was the last driver to go the full 200 laps.

A.J. Foyt Jr. of Houston, Tex., three-time winner of the 500, was the fastest qualifier and rated the man to beat. But, like Unser, he had to make two extra stops to fix an ailing waste gate and to rebuild his turbocharger.

Only sheer determination gave Foyt an eighth place finish back of Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., fifth in an Eagle-Ford: rookie Peter Revson, New York, sixth in a Brabham-Repco, and rookie Mark Donohue, Media, Pa., seventh in a Lola-Offenhauser.

One of the saddest mishaps in the race, which was run without any injuries, took Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., out of the race when he looked like a potential winner.

On the 106th lap, he refueled, thought he heard his crew disconnect the fuel hose, and roared out of the pit. The hose was still connected and it ripped out the connection. There was no way for him to refuel after that and he ended up an unofficial 20th.

Only four drivers led the race —Andretti, Foyt, Wally Dallenbach in an Eagle-Offenhauser and Ruby.

The little Italian set a new record of 156.867 miles per hour for the event, even though he wasn't pressed in the latter stages of the race. Part of the high speed, smashing Bobby Unser's mark of 152,882 last year, was due to the fact that the caution light was on only 14 minutes.

Mail Campaign Underway For Lighted Field

A huge mailing campaign to reach alumni and friends of Escanaba Area High School is the major fund raising activity of the Athletic Field Improvement Committee.

Thousands of newsletters describing the purpose of the committee were recently mailed along with contributing envelopes. The hope is for immediate responses sufficient enough to light the field this summer.

The recent stock car benefit race, along with student contributions from the "E" Club, Mortarboard and student council have raised over $1,000. Other committee activities include the Grand Ol' Opry appearance June 6.

Committee chairman Roland Collins has emphasized that although lights are the primary and immediate goal, there are many other improvements to be made at the field. Included in this list are the remodeling of the field house, visiting team quarters and hard surfacing of the track.

Contributors are asked to remember that all improvements are being financed exclusively by the committee projects. No tax funds are being expended by the Board of Education.

Harnischfeger Corporation has donated sufficient truck-crane booms to be used for light standards. Although this gift will reduce the cost of lighting substantuially, preliminary estimates call for at least $10,000 to complete the first phase of lights for the field. Total cost could be around $25,000.

Individuals not contacted by mail may contribute at any of Escanaba's three banks.

Women's League Opens Wednesday

Official league play for women golfers at the Escanaba Country Club will begin Wednesday, June 4. Sixty women have signed up for league play and the matches for Wednesday will be published in Monday's Press on the Sport Page.

Dinner will be served at 7 p. m. in the club house, preceded by a cocktail party. All those who have not signed the permanent dinner list are asked to phone the clubhouse, 786-1701 and make reservations. All women members of the Escanaba Gold Club are welcome to attend the dinner.

Committee for the first women's golf league day is Gloria Hansley, Alice Gafner, Nicky Traverse and Ruby Rahoi.

ONE-TOWEL FAMILY

PITTSBURGH (NEA)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, in an economy move, have limited players to one towel each in the dressing room.

"We used to use one towel after working up a sweat in pre-game practice," says one of the players, "and one when we showered after a game. Now we use the same one all day. We're no longer a two-towel family."

Crusaders Take First In Memorial Day Meet

NEWBERRY — The Holy Name Crusaders proved to be the class of the field when they finished in first place among 22 schools competing in the Champion of Champions track meet held here Memorial Day.

The Crusaders only had three first place finishers in the meet, but still managed to pile up 39 points to outdistance the second place Gladstone Braves, who finished with 27 points.

Following Holy Name and Gladstone in the point standings were Hancock with 26 points, Alpena 23, Ontonagon 13, Pickford 13, Lake Linden 12, Newberry 11, Marquette 10½, L'Anse 10, Engadine 9, Negaunee 6, Pine River 6, Gwinn 5½, Soo 4, Bishop Baraga 3½, Calumet 3½, and Iron Mountain 2.

Rapid River, Wakefield, Houghton and Pellston were also entered in the meet but failed to score a point.

Holy Name got first place finishes from Dan Young in the shot put, with a toss of 49 feet 3 inches, and Paul Guenette in the two mile run, in a time of 10:20.5. The 880 Relay team of Bill Skradski, Joe Lasnoski, Tom Ness and Jim Dubord also finished first in their event.

Other Crusaders placing in the meet were Bob McGinn, 2nd in the 880 yard run; Ness, 3rd in the 100-yard dash and 2nd in the 220-yard dash; and Lasnoski, 5th in the 100-yard dash and 2nd in the low hurdles.

Rick Lorenson of Gladstone and Ken Anderson were the meet's only double winners. The Braves' speedster captured top honors in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, while Anderson was victorious in the long jump and 440 yard dash.

Also placing in the meet for the Braves were Ralph Dollhopf, 3rd in the mile, and Mike Skorupski, 2nd in the long jump and 5th in the high jump. Gladstone also picked up points with a second in the mile relay and a third in the 880 relay.

Only two records were set in the Memorial Day event. Anderson recorded a new mark in the long jump with a leap of 21 feet 6 inches and Bob Gamble of Pine River set a new standard in the mile run with a time of 4:38.4.

The results:

Pole Vault — Rahl (E), (tied for second) Bastian (C) and Froberg (Gw), Leanes (BB), Moreau (IM) 12' 1½"

Shot Put — Young (HN) Zielinski (A), Koski (O), Floyd (O), Michaelson (L) 49' 3".

Long Jump — Anderson (LL), Skorupski (G), Tarbox (Han), Symons (N), Labault (O) 21' 6" (new record)

High jump — Wilson (P), Bishop (S), Salani (Han), Styles (G) Skorupski (G) 5' 10½"

Two Mile — Guenette (HN) Suszek (A), Bigger (E) Lucas (A) Whitman (L) 10:20.5

Iverson Keeps Winning Streak

NORWAY—Bob Iverson of Hyde paced all modified drivers and Ron Paquette of Kingsford topped the sportsmen before a Memorial Day stock car racing crowd of 3,000.

Iverson continued to dominate modified action as the veteran driver drove to a clean sweep. He started the evening by winning the time trials in :18.99 and battled his brother, Ken and Ed Provo for a victory in the 20-lap feature.

In the second modified heat, John Erickson of Escanaba rolled over on the sixth lap, but walked away uninjured. Iverson took over the lead from Allen Yelle of Gwinn after the restart and captured the victory. Ken Iverson finished second ahead of Yelle.

In the first heat, Ray Gardner picked up his first win of the season, while Bob Hengesh of Escanaba edged Don Benoit of Escanaba for second place. Bob Ross of Gwinn flipped his car in front of the grandstand and although the car was badly damaged, Ross was not injured.

Paquette, the number two driver from last year, had to work hard for his victories. He had a :20.60 clocking in the time trials and took the 20-lap feature in one of the closest races of the evening.

In the third heat, Paquette moved to the front on the third lap and held off a challenge by Herb Iverson of Hyde for the win. Iverson's car broke down with one lap to go and Joe Haferkorn of Norway finished second.

Ed Destrampe of Escanaba looked like a sure winner in the semi-feature until he spun out on the eighth lap, enabling Pat Temple of Norway to pick up the checkered flag.

In the second heat, Jim Schwalbach of Escanaba had an easy time capturing a victory over Bob Cousineau of Kingsford. In the first heat, Ron Debernardi of Norway caught Mike Bubloni of Vulcan on the eighth lap for the win.

Powell, Robinson Ignite Orioles In 3-1 Victory

By The Associated Press

Rattling rival pitchers has become easier for big Boog Powell than shaking teammate Brooks Robinson.

Powell ran his hitting streak to 18 games with a two-run homer Friday night and — for the third time this week—Robinson followed with another homer as the Baltimore Orioles rallied for a 3-1 victory over California.

Powell and Robinson, who had hit successive homers last Sunday at Oakland and Wednesday night at Seattle, connected in the seventh inning against winless Angel Andy Messersmith, carrying the Orioles from behind to their 12th victory in 14 games.

Elsewhere in American League holiday action, Boston nipped Minnesota 3-2; Detroit cuffed Seattle 8-5; New York swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 6-2 and 5-4 in 15 innings; Chicago beat Washington 8-5 after a 5-4, 10-inning loss and Oakland split with Cleveland, bowing 9-2 before taking the nightcap 5-1.

Powell overcame a 1-0 California lead with his seventh homer of the season after a double by Frank Robinson in the seventh. Brooks Robinson then hit his eighth homer, giving left-hander Mike Cuellar an insurance run.

Cuellar, 6-4, scattered six hits while Messersmith, 0-5, allowed just two until the seventh.

Rico Petrocelli's bloop double knocked in two runs and Tony Conigliaro's broken bat single delivered the third as the Red Sox squeezed past Minnesota for their eighth triumph in 10 starts.

Jim Lonborg registered his fourth victory without a loss but needed relief help in the seventh after Harmon Killebrew rocked him for a towering two-run homer.

Fritz Peterson pitched a five-hitter, Bobby Murcer smacked a homer, double and single and Roy White contributed a two-run triple in the Yankees' opening game victory at Kansas City.

New York broke a 3-3 tie in the 15th inning of the nightcap on RBI singles by Jerry Kenney and White, then survived Mike Fiore's run-producing double in the bottom half.

Bobby Knoop, who started the day with one home run and a .179 batting mark, wasted two homers as the White Sox dropped their opener at Washington, then slammed a decisive three-run homer in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

The Senators snapped a 10th inning deadlock in the first game when Mike Epstein scored from second on a throwing error by rookie catcher Ed Herrmann.

Rookie George Lauzerique, backed by Reggie Smith's 14th and 15th homers, hurled a five-hitter for his first major league victory as the Athletics rebounded for a split with Cleveland. Jackson unloaded twice with the bases empty and Bert Campaneris drove in the other three Oakland runs with a homer and single.

Jose Cardenal capped Cleveland's eight-run first inning explosion in the opener with a grand slam homer after starting it with a single—and Luis Tiant breezed to his first victory after seven consecutive victories.

Tigers Nip Upstart Pilots; Cash Stars

SEATTLE (AP) — Wayne Comer's baseball popularity soared in the American League baseball market Friday even as Seattle Pilot stock sagged under a Detroit bombardment that earned the world champs an 8-5 victory over the upstart expansion club which hasn't lost a series in its last seven tries.

A former Detroit chattel picked up in the expansion draft, Comer hit safely in all four of his trips to the plate and one poke was among the five home runs recorded during the afternon.

Seattle actually out-homered the champions, 3-2, but it was a single by Norm Cash in the fifth inning, scoring Al Kaline from second to cap a three-run inning, that put Detroit on top to stay.

Cash had cracked a scoreless tie in the fourth when he followed a Kaline single with a homer into the right field seats. This stung Seattle into action. Comer opened the Pilot fourth with a circuit smash to left (his three other hits were singles). Don Mincher then doubled and Gus Gil, trying to sacrifice, was safe on an error by Cash at first. Jerry McNertney hit a three-run homer to give Seattle a 4-2 edge.

Dick Radatz, who once led the Pacific Coast League in wild pitches as a player at nearby Tacoma, replaced Detroit's starting pitcher John Hiller and retired three Pilots in order. He pitched just that one inning but got credit for the victory, his third of the season against two iosses.

Two men were out in the fifth when Seattle starter Marty Pattin walked Mickey Stanley. Dick McAuliffe and Kaline hit successive doubles and Cash contributed his key single before reliever John O'Donoghue could get the side out.

Tom Matchick's double and Seattle third baseman Gil's second error of the game gave Detroit a run in the sixth and the Tigers added insurance tallies in the eighth and ninth.

Jim Northrup hit the longest homer of the season in the Seattle park in the eighth, the ball needing only four more rows of right field seats to sail out entirely. Park officials estimated the ball sailed 420 feet. And Northrup doubled home Detroit's final run in the ninth.

Mike Hegan, pinch hitting in the seventh, hit Seattle's last homer.

Joe Sparma, 2-1, was scheduled to be today's Detroit starter, opposing Seattle's veteran pitcher Gary Bell, 2-4.

Rotary Leads Little League

Close games continued to be the vogue in Escanaba Jaycee Litle League play, but the pattern was pretty much the same.

John Chylek's Rotary team leads the pack with a 3-0 mark as his S-S troops of Al Schwalbach and Matt Smith tossed a pair of one hitters at the Eagles to support their claim on first place.

Meanwhile, the Lions kept in striking distance by rallying for three runs in the final inning to beat Kiwanis, 6-4, as Don Kleiman hung on for his second victory of the season.

The big mover of the week was Jerry Nelson's Bankers as they picked up 6-5 and 10-2 wins over Exchange to move into third place. Steve Erickson put the Credit Union into the victory column with his second impressive appearance of the season as his team beat VFW, 3-2.

As would be expected, the Lions and Rotary provide the leaders in early season individual averages. Kleiman and Schwalbach each won two victories on the mound while Mike Miketinac and Smith pace the hitters with .750 averages.

Magnuson Announces Coaching Retirement

Jack Magnuson, head golf coach at Escanaba Area High School for the past 20 years, announced his resignation from that sport Friday.

Magnuson was born and raised in Marinette, Wis., and graduated from Marinette High School in 1943. He was a 1949 graduate of Wisconsin State University at Whitewater and was a four year letter winner in golf while in college.

Magnuson started his teaching career at Escanaba in 1949. During his 20 years as golf coach, he coached the Eskymos to eight U. P. championships and four times his teams finished second in the U. P.

Tom Hughson, Guidance Counselor at Escanaba, was named to succeed Magnuson.

Mets Ruin Near No-Hitter Again

By The Associated Press

Although he meant well, Mike McCormick made the same mistake as Phil Niekro. He tried to pitch a no-hitter against Tom Seaver and the New York Mets.

Pittsburgh also looked good pulling off a triple play on Houston's Johnny Edwards, but that too returned to haunt them when a more determined Edwards came back to beat them.

Just over two weeks ago, Niekro of Atlanta made his bid, holding the Mets hitless for six innings with a 3-0 lead before a triple and a single got the Mets on the board.

Now along comes McCormick and San Francisco rolling along with a 3-0 lead and a no-hitter Friday night before Ron Swoboda homered for the Mets to lead off the seventh.

When Seaver again left for a pinch hitter in the eighth, the handwriting was on the wall, and the Mets rallied this time for three runs and a 4-3 victory over the Giants.

Pittsburgh was losing 3-1 in the first game of its doubleheader against the Astros when Edwards ruined Houston in the fourth inning by hitting into a triple play. The Pirates went on to grab a 9-3 victory, ending the Astros' 10-game winning streak.

But Edwards shrugged off his misfortune and came back with a tie-breaking two-run, ninth inning single in the nightcap to give Houston a 9-6 triumph.

In other Memorial Day games, San Diego saddled Montreal with its 14th straight defeat, 3-2 in 10 innings, Cincinnati nipped St. Louis 6-6 in 10 innings, Bill Hands and the Chicago Cubs edged Atlanta 2-0 and Philadelphia blasted Los Angeles 13-6.

Willie McCovey's 14th homer and sacrifice fly had given the Giants their lead, but McCormick couldn't hang on. Rod Gaspar lined his first major league homer with two out in the eighth and when Tommie Agee followed with a single, Frank Linzy relieved.

Hits by Cleon Jones and Swoboda tied the game and rookie Duffy Dyer's infield hit sent home the winner.

Montreal gave away two unearned runs before John Sipin beat the Expos with his first major league homer in the 10th. Each team had scored on wild pitches in the eighth.

Bob Gibson was rolling along with a 3-0 lead on Joe Torre's two-run homer and run-scoring single. But Johnny Bench ended Gibson's string of 25 consecutive scoreless innings with a three-run homer in the seventh and relief pitcher Clay Carroll, 6-3, embarrassed Gibson, 6-3, with a two-out homer in the 10th for Cincinnati's eighth straight victory.

Hands, 4-5, allowed only five hits and retired 16 hitters in a row during one stretch. A single, a hit batter and loser Ron Reed's error on Hands' sacrifice bunt loaded the bases for Chicago in the seventh. A force out broke the deadlock and Glenn Beckert singled in the other run.

Philadelphia and Woody Fryman rode in on three-run homers by Richie Allen and Deron Johnson and solo shots by Mike Ryan and Larry Hisle.

Andretti Wins Indy 500 Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mario Andretti, who has been racing automobiles since he was 13 years old in Italy, never grew much bigger, but he found a great equalizer in the 53rd 500-mile race Friday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 5-foot-6 charger, twice U.S. Auto Club champion and never worse than second in the last four years, knows a couple of great craftsmen named Clint Brawner and Jim McGee in Phoenix, Ariz.

The Hawk-Ford put together by Brawner and McGee was running away Friday at the end of the world's richest auto race.

Just how much the 29-year-old Nazareth, Pa., driver won won't be known until the traditional victory dinner tonight. The prize money, based on an undisclosed crowd, may give the winner as much as $200,000.

Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., won more than $177,000 for victory last year. He did a colossal job of driving a Lola-Offenhauser to third place Friday after having to change seven tires and make two additional pit stops besides the mandatory three.

Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Celif., who builds the All American Eagle-Fords, put one of his stock-block creations into second place for the second time in two years.

Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., perennial U.S. midget car racing champion despite the loss of part of one hand in a racing wreck, finished fourth in a Gerhardt-Offenhauser and was the last driver to go the full 200 laps.

A.J. Foyt Jr. of Houston, Tex., three-time winner of the 500, was the fastest qualifier and rated the man to beat. But, like Unser, he had to make two extra stops to fix an ailing waste gate and to rebuild his turbocharger.

Only sheer determination gave Foyt an eighth place finish back of Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., fifth in an Eagle-Ford; rookie Peter Revson, New York, sixth in a Brabham-Repco, and rookie Mark Donohue, Media, Pa., seventh in a Lola-Offenhauser.

One of the saddest mishaps in the race, which was run without any injuries, took Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., out of the race when he looked like a potential winner.

On the 106th lap, he refueled, thought he heard his crew disconnect the fuel hose, and roared out of the pit. The hose was still connected and it ripped out the connection. There was no way for him to refuel after that and he ended up an unofficial 20th.

Only four drivers led the race —Andretti, Foyt, Wally Dallenbach in an Eagle-Offenhauser and Ruby.

The little Italian set a new record of 156.867 miles per hour for the event, even though he wasn't pressed in the latter stages of the race. Part of the high speed, smashing Bobby Unser's mark of 152,882 last year, was due to the fact that the caution light was on only 14 minutes.

Mail Campaign Underway For Lighted Field

A huge mailing campaign to reach alumni and friends of Escanaba Area High School is the major fund raising activity of the Athletic Field Improvement Committee.

Thousands of newsletters describing the purpose of the committee were recently mailed along with contributing envelopes. The hope is for immediate responses sufficient enough to light the field this summer.

The recent stock car benefit race, along with student contributions from the "E" Club, Mortarboard and student council have raised over $1,000. Other committee activities include the Grand Ol' Opry appearance June 6.

Committee chairman Roland Collins has emphasized that although lights are the primary and immediate goal, there are many other improvements to be made at the field. Included in this list are the remodeling of the field house, visiting team quarters and hard surfacing of the track.

Contributors are asked to remember that all improvements are being financed exclusively by the committee projects. No tax funds are being expended by the Board of Education.

Harnischfeger Corporation has donated sufficient truck-crane booms to be used for light standards. Although this gift will reduce the cost of lighting substantuially, preliminary estimates call for at least $10,000 to complete the first phase of lights for the field. Total cost could be around $25,000.

Individuals not contacted by mail may contribute at any of Escanaba's three banks.

Women's League Opens Wednesday

Official league play for women golfers at the Escanaba Country Club will begin Wednesday, June 4. Sixty women have signed up for league play and the matches for Wednesday will be published in Monday's Press on the Sport Page.

Dinner will be served at 7 p. m. in the club house, preceded by a cocktail party. All those who have not signed the permanent dinner list are asked to phone the clubhouse, 786-1701 and make reservations. All women members of the Escanaba Gold Club are welcome to attend the dinner.

Committee for the first women's golf league day is Gloria Hansley, Alice Gafner, Nicky Traverse and Ruby Rahoi.

ONE-TOWEL FAMILY

PITTSBURGH (NEA)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, in an economy move, have limited players to one towel each in the dressing room.

"We used to use one towel after working up a sweat in pre-game practice," says one of the players, "and one when we showered after a game. Now we use the same one all day. We're no longer a two-towel family."

Crusaders Take First In Memorial Day Meet

NEWBERRY — The Holy Name Crusaders proved to be the class of the field when they finished in first place among 22 schools competing in the Champion of Champions track meet held here Memorial Day.

The Crusaders only had three first place finishers in the meet, but still managed to pile up 39 points to outdistance the second place Gladstone Braves, who finished with 27 points.

Following Holy Name and Gladstone in the point standings were Hancock with 26 points, Alpena 23, Ontonagon 13, Pickford 13, Lake Linden 12, Newberry 11, Marquette 10½, L'Anse 10, Engadine 9, Negaunee 6, Pine River 6, Gwinn 5½, Soo 4, Bishop Baraga 3½, Calumet 3½, and Iron Mountain 2.

Rapid River, Wakefield, Houghton and Pellston were also entered in the meet but failed to score a point.

Holy Name got first place finishes from Dan Young in the shot put, with a toss of 49 feet 3 inches, and Paul Guenette in the two mile run, in a time of 10:20.5. The 880 Relay team of Bill Skradski, Joe Lasnoski, Tom Ness and Jim Dubord also finished first in their event.

Other Crusaders placing in the meet were Bob McGinn, 2nd in the 880 yard run; Ness, 3rd in the 100-yard dash and 2nd in the 220-yard dash; and Lasnoski, 5th in the 100-yard dash and 2nd in the low hurdles.

Rick Lorenson of Gladstone and Ken Anderson were the meet's only double winners. The Braves' speedster captured top honors in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, while Anderson was victorious in the long jump and 440 yard dash.

Also placing in the meet for the Braves were Ralph Dollhopf, 3rd in the mile, and Mike Skorupski, 2nd in the long jump and 5th in the high jump. Gladstone also picked up points with a second in the mile relay and a third in the 880 relay.

Only two records were set in the Memorial Day event. Anderson recorded a new mark in the long jump with a leap of 21 feet 6 inches and Bob Gamble of Pine River set a new standard in the mile run with a time of 4:38.4.

The results:

Pole Vault — Rahl (E), (tied for second) Bastian (C) and Froberg (Gw), Leanes (BB), Moreau (IM) 12' 1½"

Shot Put — Young (HN) Zielinski (A), Koski (O), Floyd (O), Michaelson (L) 49' 3".

Iverson Keeps Winning Streak

NORWAY—Bob Iverson of Hyde paced all modified drivers and Ron Paquette of Kingsford topped the sportsmen before a Memorial Day stock car racing crowd of 3,000.

Iverson continued to dominate modified action as the veteran driver drove to a clean sweep. He started the evening by winning the time trials in :18.99 and battled his brother, Ken and Ed Provo for a victory in the 20-lap feature.

In the second modified heat, John Erickson of Escanaba rolled over on the sixth lap, but walked away uninjured. Iverson took over the lead from Allen Yelle of Gwinn after the restart and captured the victory. Ken Iverson finished second ahead of Yelle.

In the first heat, Ray Gardner picked up his first win of the season, while Bob Hengesh of Escanaba edged Don Benoit of Escanaba for second place. Bob Ross of Gwinn flipped his car in front of the grandstand and although the car was badly damaged, Ross was not injured.

Paquette, the number two driver from last year, had to work hard for his victories. He had a :20.60 clocking in the time trials and took the 20-lap feature in one of the closest races of the evening.

In the third heat, Paquette moved to the front on the third lap and held off a challenge by Herb Iverson of Hyde for the win. Iverson's car broke down with one lap to go and Joe Haferkorn of Norway finished second.

Ed Destrampe of Escanaba looked like a sure winner in the semi-feature until he spun out on the eighth lap, enabling Pat Temple of Norway to pick up the checkered flag.

In the second heat, Jim Schwalbach of Escanaba had an easy time capturing a victory over Bob Cousineau of Kingsford. In the first heat, Ron Debernardi of Norway caught Mike Bubloni of Vulcan on the eighth lap for the win.

Powell, Robinson Ignite Orioles In 3-1 Victory

By The Associated Press

Rattling rival pitchers has become easier for big Boog Powell than shaking teammate Brooks Robinson.

Powell ran his hitting streak to 18 games with a two-run homer Friday night and — for the third time this week—Robinson followed with another homer as the Baltimore Orioles rallied for a 3-1 victory over California.

Powell and Robinson, who had hit successive homers last Sunday at Oakland and Wednesday night at Seattle, connected in the seventh inning against winless Angel Andy Messersmith, carrying the Orioles from behind to their 12th victory in 14 games.

Elsewhere in American League holiday action, Boston nipped Minnesota 3-2; Detroit cuffed Seattle 8-5; New York swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 6-2 and 5-4 in 15 innings; Chicago beat Washington 8-5 after a 5-4, 10-inning loss and Oakland split with Cleveland, bowing 9-2 before taking the nightcap 5-1.

Powell overcame a 1-0 California lead with his seventh homer of the season after a double by Frank Robinson in the seventh. Brooks Robinson then hit his eighth homer, giving lefthander Mike Cuellar an insurance run.

Cuellar, 6-4, scattered six hits while Messersmith, 0-5, allowed just two until the seventh.

Rico Petrocelli's bloop double knocked in two runs and Tony Conigliaro's broken bat single delivered the third as the Red Sox squeezed past Minnesota for their eighth triumph in 10 starts.

Jim Lonborg registered his fourth victory without a loss but needed relief help in the seventh after Harmon Killebrew rocked him for a towering two-run homer.

Fritz Peterson pitched a five-hitter, Bobby Murcer smacked a homer, double and single and Roy White contributed a two-run triple in the Yankees' opening game victory at Kansas City.

New York broke a 3-3 tie in the 15th inning of the nightcap on RBI singles by Jerry Kenney and White, then survived Mike Fiore's run-producing double in the bottom half.

Bobby Knoop, who started the day with one home run and a .179 batting mark, wasted two homers as the White Sox dropped their opener at Washington, then slammed a decisive three-run homer in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

The Senators snapped a 10th inning deadlock in the first game when Mike Epstein scored from second on a throwing error by rookie catcher Ed Herrmann.

Rookie George Lauzerique, backed by Reggie Smith's 14th and 15th homers, hurled a five-hitter for his first major league victory as the Athletics rebounded for a split with Cleveland. Jackson unloaded twice with the bases empty and Bert Campaneris drove in the other three Oakland runs with a homer and single.

Jose Cardenal capped Cleveland's eight-run first inning explosion in the opener with a grand slam homer after starting it with a single—and Luis Tiant breezed to his first victory after seven consecutive victories.

Tigers Nip Upstart Pilots; Cash Stars

SEATTLE (AP) — Wayne Comer's baseball popularity soared in the American League baseball market Friday even as Seattle Pilot stock sagged under a Detroit bombardment that earned the world champs an 8-5 victory over the upstart expansion club which hasn't lost a series in its last seven tries.

A former Detroit chattel picked up in the expansion draft, Comer hit safely in all four of his trips to the plate and one poke was among the five home runs recorded during the afternon.

Seattle actually out-homered the champions, 3-2, but it was a single by Norm Cash in the fifth inning, scoring Al Kaline from second to cap a three-run inning, that put Detroit on top to stay.

Cash had cracked a scoreless tie in the fourth when he followed a Kaline single with a homer into the right field seats. This stung Seattle into action. Comer opened the Pilot fourth with a circuit smash to left (his three other hits were singles). Don Mincher then doubled and Gus Gil, trying to sacrifice, was safe on an error by Cash at first. Jerry McNertney hit a three-run homer to give Seattle a 4-2 edge.

Dick Radatz, who once led the Pacific Coast League in wild pitches as a player at nearby Tacoma, replaced Detroit's starting pitcher John Hiller and retired three Pilots in order. He pitched just that one inning but got credit for the victory, his third of the season against two losses.

Two men were out in the fifth when Seattle starter Marty Pattin walked Mickey Stanley. Dick McAuliffe and Kaline hit successive doubles and Cash contributed his key single before reliever John O'Donoghue could get the side out.

Tom Matchick's double and Seattle third baseman Gil's second error of the game gave Detroit a run in the sixth and the Tigers added insurance tallies in the eighth and ninth.

Jim Northrup hit the longest homer of the season in the Seattle park in the eighth, the ball needing only four more rows of right field seats to sail out entirely. Park officials estimated the ball sailed 420 feet. And Northrup doubled home Detroit's final run in the ninth.

Mike Hegan, pinch hitting in the seventh, hit Seattle's last homer.

Joe Sparma, 2-1, was scheduled to be today's Detroit starter, opposing Seattle's veteran pitcher Gary Bell, 2-4.

Rotary Leads Little League

Close games continued to be the vogue in Escanaba Jaycee Litle League play, but the pattern was pretty much the same.

John Chylek's Rotary team leads the pack with a 3-0 mark as his S-S troops of Al Schwalbach and Matt Smith tossed a pair of one hitters at the Eagles to support their claim on first place.

Meanwhile, the Lions kept in striking distance by rallying for three runs in the final inning to beat Kiwanis, 6-4, as Don Kleiman hung on for his second victory of the season.

The big mover of the week was Jerry Nelson's Bankers as they picked up 6-5 and 10-2 wins over Exchange to move into third place. Steve Erickson put the Credit Union into the victory column with his second impressive appearance of the season as his team beat VFW, 3-2.

As would be expected, the Lions and Rotary provide the leaders in early season individual averages. Kleiman and Schwalbach each won two victories on the mound while Mike Miketinac and Smith pace the hitters with .750 averages.

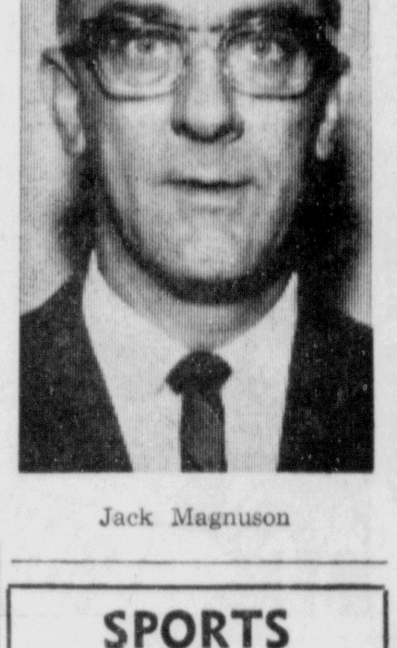
Magnuson Announces Coaching Retirement

Jack Magnuson, head golf coach at Escanaba Area High School for the past 20 years, announced his resignation from that sport Friday.



Jack Magnuson

Magnuson was born and raised in Marinette, Wis., and graduated from Marinette High School in 1943. He was a 1949 graduate of Wisconsin State University at Whitewater and was a four year letter winner in golf while in college.

Magnuson started his teaching career at Escanaba in 1949. During his 20 years as golf coach, he coached the Eskymos to eight U. P. championships and four times his teams finished second in the U. P.

Tom Hughson, Guidance Counselor at Escanaba, was named to succeed Magnuson.

Mets Ruin Near No-Hitter Again

By The Associated Press

Although he meant well, Mike McCormick made the same mistake as Phil Niekro. He tried to pitch a no-hitter against Tom Seaver and the New York Mets.

Pittsburgh also looked good pulling off a triple play on Houston's Johnny Edwards, but that too returned to haunt them when a more determined Edwards came back to beat them.

Just over two weeks ago, Niekro of Atlanta made his bid, holding the Mets hitless for six innings with a 3-0 lead before a triple and a single got the Mets on the board.

Now along comes McCormick and San Francisco rolling along with a 3-0 lead and a no-hitter Friday night before Ron Swoboda homered for the Mets to lead off the seventh.

When Seaver again left for a pinch hitter in the eighth, the handwriting was on the wall, and the Mets rallied this time for three runs and a 4-3 victory over the Giants.

Pittsburgh was losing 3-1 in the first game of its doubleheader against the Astros when Edwards ruined Houston in the fourth inning by hitting into a triple play. The Pirates went on to grab a 9-3 victory, ending the Astros' 10-game winning streak.

But Edwards shrugged off his misfortune and came back with a tie-breaking two-run, ninth inning single in the nightcap to give Houston a 9-6 triumph.

In other Memorial Day games, San Diego saddled Montreal with its 14th straight defeat, 3-2 in 10 innings, Cincinnati nipped St. Louis 4-3 in 10 innings, Bill Hands and the Chicago Cubs edged Atlanta 2-0 and Philadelphia blasted Los Angeles 13-6.

Willie McCovey's 14th homer and sacrifice fly had given the Giants their lead, but McCormick couldn't hang on. Rod Gaspar lined his first major league homer with two out in the eighth and when Tommie Agee followed with a single, Frank Linzy relieved.

Hits by Cleon Jones and Swoboda tied the game and rookie Duffy Dyer's infield hit sent home the winner.

Montreal gave away two unearned runs before John Sipin beat the Expos with his first major league homer in the 10th. Each team had scored on wild pitches in the eighth.

Bob Gibson was rolling along with a 3-0 lead on Joe Torre's two-run homer and run-scoring single. But Johnny Bench ended Gibson's string of 25 consecutive scoreless innings with a three-run homer in the seventh and relief pitcher Clay Carroll, 6-3, embarrassed Gibson, 6-3, with a two-out homer in the 10th for Cincinnati's eighth straight victory.

Hands, 4-5, allowed only five hits and retired 16 hitters in a row during one stretch. A single, a hit batter and loser Ron Reed's error on Hands' sacrifice bunt loaded the bases for Chicago in the seventh. A force out broke the deadlock and Glenn Beckert singled in the other run.

Philadelphia and Woody Fryman rode in on three-run homers by Richie Allen and Deron Johnson and solo shots by Mike Ryan and Larry Hisle.

Eskymo Letter Winners Named

Henry Wylie, head track coach at Escanaba Area High School, has named 17 letter winners for the 1969 Eskymo track squad, of which eight are seniors, five are juniors and four are sophomores.

To receive a letter at Escanaba, an athlete must have earned a minimum of five points or placed in a conference, regional or U. P. Final meet.

Seniors receiving letters were Allen Berg, John Breitenbach, Tom Carlson, Randy Johnson, Steve Jurmu, Dan Kleikamp, Jim Olsen and Wes Peterson. Peterson and Johnson were managers.

Junior letter winners named were Rodney Deiter, Roger McMillan, Steve Rolig, Bob Thompson and Gene Timmer. Sophomores honored were Gary Brawley, Steve Gage, Doug Howard and Bob Stone.

The Eskymos went undefeated in regular season meets and were the Great Northern Conference champions. Berg, the U. P. champion high hurdler, led all Eskymos in the scoring department this year with 150½ points. Following Berg were Carlson, a pole vaulter and sprinter, with 70¾ points; Bob Stone, 880 yard run and mile relay, 26¼; and Roger McMillan, miler and mile relay, 25¼.

In four seasons on the Eskymo track squad, Berg scored 266½ points. He only scored one point in his freshman year and 15½ in his sophomore year, but he increased his total to 99½ points in his junior year.

Berg and Carlson were also presented with special awards given by the Eskymo Fan Club.

Pari-Mutuel Golf Tourney Results

The team of Mel Manske, Leo Lacrosse, Bill VanEffen and Jack Kivela walked away with first place in the Escanaba Country Club's annual Memorial Day Pari-Mutuel with a net score of 290.

Three teams tied for second place honors, all coming in with 299 scores. Second place teams were Dave Andrews, Ralph Zenker, Byron Zanella and Ron Junco; Lee Meyers, Jerry Londo, Jim Owens and Harold Olson; and Dick Knoll, Gary Cyr, Jim Allen and Clyde Lepisto.

Best gross included a 37-40—77 by Jim Schultz, Dick Knoll 38-40—78, Lee Meyers 43-36—79, Ed Gravelle 38-42—80, Jim Fitzharris 43-37—80, Dr. Ed Kuivinen 41-40—81 and Dave Andrews 42-40—82.

Best net scores were Jack Kivela 62, Jim Schultz 67, Pat Moran 69, Dick Knoll 70, Ed Larche 70 and Jim Fitzharris 70.

Spreen Decides On Detroit Job

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Police Commissioner Johannes Spreen says he'll decide Sunday whether or not to quit his job as head of Detroit's 4,850-man police force.

Spreen said his decision would be made on the basis of his evaluation of how his 100-day Love-In program has worked. Indications are that it has not worked out to Spreen's expectations.

Spreen has bitterly criticized Detroit Common Council for its failure to provide the money for 1,700 new policemen, and the commissioner's "Buck Up Your Police" campaign for $1 contributions from individual citizens has not caught on as the commissioner had hoped.

During the 100 days of Spreen's declared Love-In, two police officers have been shot to death, the department has been embroiled in controversy stemming from the New Bethel Church shooting incident, the split between Negro and white policemen became more pronounced and the Detroit Police Officers Association has been increasingly active.

"We have had a rocky 100 days," Spreen said after a Memorial Day service at police headquarters. "Not all has been done that we had hoped to do. Much remains to be done. There have been many steps forward, but we have fallen back several times."

Spreen's statement was the first public admission since he took over the reins of the department last July that he is considering calling it quits.

Boden Earns Bronze Star

Army Spec. 5 Jeffrey L. Boden, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Boden, 414 Delta Ave., Gladstone, has received the Bronze Star Medal near An Khe, Vietnam.

Boden was presented the award for meritorious service in ground operations against hostile forces in Vietnam.

He is presently a personnel specialist in the officer's records branch, Co. A of the 173rd Airborne Brigade's 173rd Support Batt. in Vietnam.

Boden entered the Army in Jan. 1967, and completed his basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. He was last stationed at Ft. George G. Meade, Md., and has been serving in Vietnam since May, 1968.

He also holds the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious achievement.

14 Officers Chase Purse Snatcher

DETROIT (AP) — Fourteen burly policemen heard the screams of the 67-year-old woman and minutes later recovered her stolen purse.

Anthony Neal, 18, of Detroit was in jail today after his apprehension by the Detroit Police Department's tug - of - war. The team was working out at an athletic field when they heard the screams and saw a man fleeing with a purse.

Sgt. James Brodie, a former college track star, led the chase.

The pole vibrates when traffic signals at the intersection turn green.

In Service

Capt. Larry P. Sabourin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Sabourin, 420 S. 11th St., Gladstone, is on duty at Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. Sabourin is an F-4E Phantom aircraft commander in a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Thailand, he was assigned at Eglin AFB, Fla.

Sabourin, a 1959 graduate of Gladstone High School, received his B. S. degree in civil engineering from Michigan Technological University and was commissioned there in 1963 through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

OK Detroit's Model City Plan

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's $20.5 million plan for the first year of its Model City program was approved Wednesday by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The approval, after a five-month delay, was announced in Detroit, here by HUD Secretary George Romney.

The Model City area stretches from the Detroit River to Hamtramck, bounded on the east by Mt. Elliot and on the west by Grand River and the Michigan Central railroad tracks.

The Model City program, directed by Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh and the 108-man Citizens Governing Board, includes efforts aimed at improving housing, education, juvenile detention centers, street - lighting and park acreage.

With half the city's substandard housing in the Model City area, housing will be the main target of the program.

About $1.8 million of the federal money should be able to generate more than $10 million in new construction, primarily housing, Romney said.

Traffic Fatality Study:

Weekend Walks To Taverns Bad

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A walk along a road on a Friday or Saturday evening in December is not a good idea, especially if the walk includes a stop at a tavern, a University of Michigan study indicates.

A U-M report on pedestrian deaths in traffic accidents showed statistically that pedestrian accidents are most likely to happen at night in clear weather, under artificial light, and on a dry, straight asphalt road. Further the statistics compiled by Prof. Donald F. Huelke of the U-M- Highway Safety Research Institute show that December is the worst month for pedestrian accidents and Friday and Saturday the worst days of the week.

Huelke said, however, that numerous accidents occur in broad daylight and in a variety of situations.

Alcohol was the single factor most commonly associated with victims, he stated.

He said secondary impact with the road should be considered an important source of fatal injuries to pedestrians.

He said fatal injuries attributed to features of the vehicle, such as protruding bumpers, don't appear to be as important as supposed by many.

"Such specific items could not be identified in this study, said Huelke who considered 286 pedestrian fatalities in Detroit and suburban Wayne County.

"From the police photographs it is obvious that the pedestrians had contact not only with the front of the car but also at times the top of the hood, windshield, and parts of the windshield frame," Huelke said." In addition, striking the road surface should be considered one of the prime causes of fatel injuries."

Hueyke called the pedestrian the most unprepared element in traffic adding that this element accounts for about 18 per cent of the nation's 50,000-plus traffic fatalities each year.

Alcohol is involved in many deaths, Prof. Huelke said. He said tests indicated that 61 per cent of those studied had been drinking and half of those exceeded the federal standard for intoxication.

Appoint 12 To Honor Society

National Honor Society appointments were made at an assembly held at the High School gym on Tuesday afternoon. Twelve students, includa a brother and sister, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Watson, were tapped for membership in the National Society.

Seniors receiving the honor were Karen Lynch, John Watson, Laurie Kaufman, Mary Jo Beck, William Swenson, Eric Treichel, Pamela Ingebrigtsen and Kristin Olson. Juniors were Jana Apelgren, Margaret Noreus and Mark Oja. Judy Watson was the only sophomore.

Students receiving the honor of membership in the National Honor Society are selected for their scholastic ability and for meritorious service in their school.

Briefly Told

Gladstone Police issued a trafic citation for failing to yield the right of way to Mark C. Tibergien, 1502 Wisconsin Ave., after a minor traffic accident at 9th St. and Lake Shore Dr. on Friday.

Gladstone City Police issued a traffic citation to David R. Clark, 18, of 521 Ogden Ave., Escanaba, for improper passing when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Mrs. Joyce Rabitoy, 720 Montana Ave. Thursday. Clark was thrown from his vehicle when he attempted to pass Mrs. Rabitoy who had signaled for a turn at the intersection of Montana Ave. and S. 9th St. Clark was not injured in the mishap.

Kathy Osterberg, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Osterberg, 1321 Wisconsin Ave. was injured Thursday afternoon when she rode her bicycle into a car driven by Bradley Carlson, 317 N. 17th St. on Dakota Ave. near the 11th St. intersection. The Carlson car had stalled and was being pushed by several boys trying to get it started. Kathy was treated at a local doctor's office.

Eskymo Letter Winners Named

Henry Wylie, head track coach at Escanaba Area High School, has named 17 letter winners for the 1969 Eskymo track squad, of which eight are seniors, five are juniors and four are sophomores.

To receive a letter at Escanaba, an athlete must have earned a minimum of five points or placed in a conference, regional or U. P. Final meet.

Seniors receiving letters were Allen Berg, John Breitenbach, Tom Carlson, Randy Johnson, Steve Jurmu, Dan Kleikamp, Jim Olsen and Wes Peterson. Peterson and Johnson were managers.

Junior letter winners named were Rodney Deiter, Roger McMillan, Steve Rolig, Bob Thompson and Gene Timmer. Sophomores honored were Gary Brawley, Steve Gage, Doug Howard and Bob Stone.

The Eskymos went undefeated in regular season meets and were the Great Northern Conference champions. Berg, the U. P. champion high hurdler, led all Eskymos in the scoring department this year with 150½ points. Following Berg were Carlson, a pole vaulter and sprinter, with 70¾ points; Bob Stone, 880 yard run and mile relay, 26¼; and Roger McMillan, miler and mile relay, 25¼.

In four seasons on the Eskymo track squad, Berg scored 266½ points. He only scored one point in his freshman year and 15½ in his sophomore year, but he increased his total to 99½ points in his junior year.

Berg and Carlson were also presented with special awards given by the Eskymo Fan Club.

Pari-Mutuel Golf Tourney Results

The team of Mel Manske, Leo Lacrosse, Bill VanEffen and Jack Kivela walked away with first place in the Escanaba Country Club's annual Memorial Day Pari-Mutuel with a net score of 290.

Three teams tied for second place honors, all coming in with 299 scores. Second place teams were Dave Andrews, Ralph Zenker, Byron Zanella and Ron Junco; Lee Meyers, Jerry Londo, Jim Owens and Harold Olson; and Dick Knoll, Gary Cyr, Jim Allen and Clyde Lepisto.

Best gross included a 37-40—77 by Jim Schultz, Dick Knoll 38-40—78, Lee Meyers 43-36—79, Ed Gravelle 38-42—80, Jim Fitzharris 43-37—80, Dr. Ed Kuivinen 41-40—81 and Dave Andrews 42-40—82.

Best net scores were Jack Kivela 62, Jim Schultz 67, Pat Moran 69, Dick Knoll 70, Ed Larche 70 and Jim Fitzharris 70.

Spreen Decides On Detroit Job

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Police Commissioner Johannes Spreen says he'll decide Sunday whether or not to quit his job as head of Detroit's 4,850-man police force.

Spreen said his decision would be made on the basis of his evaluation of how his 100-day Love-In program has worked. Indications are that it has not worked out to Spreen's expectations.

Spreen has bitterly criticized Detroit Common Council for its failure to provide the money for 1,700 new policemen, and the commissioner's "Buck Up Your Police" campaign for $1 contributions from individual citizens has not caught on as the commissioner had hoped.

During the 100 days of Spreen's declared Love-In, two police officers have been shot to death, the department has been embroiled in controversy stemming from the New Bethel Church shooting incident, the split between Negro and white policemen became more pronounced and the Detroit Police Officers Association has been increasingly active.

"We have had a rocky 100 days," Spreen said after a Memorial Day service at police headquarters. "Not all has been done that we had hoped to do. Much remains to be done. There have been many steps forward, but we have fallen back several times."

Spreen's statement was the first public admission since he took over the reins of the department last July that he is considering calling it quits.

Boden Earns Bronze Star

Army Spec. 5 Jeffrey L. Boden, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Boden, 414 Delta Ave., Gladstone, has received the Bronze Star Medal near An Khe, Vietnam.

Boden was presented the award for meritorious service in ground operations against hostile forces in Vietnam.

He is presently a personnel specialist in the officer's records branch, Co. A of the 173rd Airborne Brigade's 173rd Support Batt. in Vietnam.

Boden entered the Army in Jan. 1967, and completed his basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. He was last stationed at Ft. George G. Meade, Md., and has been serving in Vietnam since May, 1968.

He also holds the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious achievement.

14 Officers Chase Purse Snatcher

DETROIT (AP) — Fourteen burly policemen heard the screams of the 67-year-old woman and minutes later recovered her stolen purse.

Anthony Neal, 18, of Detroit was in jail today after his apprehension by the Detroit Police Department's tug - of - war. The team was working out at an athletic field when they heard the screams and saw a man fleeing with a purse.

Sgt. James Brodie, a former college track star, led the chase.

The pole vibrates when traffic signals at the intersection turn green.

In Service

Capt. Larry P. Sabourin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Sabourin, 420 S. 11th St., Gladstone, is on duty at Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. Sabourin is an F-4E Phantom aircraft commander in a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Thailand, he was assigned at Eglin AFB, Fla.

Sabourin, a 1959 graduate of Gladstone High School, received his B. S. degree in civil engineering from Michigan Technological University and was commissioned there in 1963 through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

OK Detroit's Model City Plan

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's $20.5 million plan for the first year of its Model City program was approved Wednesday by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The approval, after a five-month delay, was announced in Detroit, here by HUD Secretary George Romney.

The Model City area stretches from the Detroit River to Hamtramck, bounded on the east by Mt. Elliot and on the west by Grand River and the Michigan Central railroad tracks.

The Model City program, directed by Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh and the 108-man Citizens Governing Board, includes efforts aimed at improving housing, education, juvenile detention centers, street - lighting and park acreage.

With half the city's substandard housing in the Model City area, housing will be the main target of the program.

About $1.8 million of the federal money should be able to generate more than $10 million in new construction, primarily housing, Romney said.

Appoint 12 To Honor Society

National Honor Society appointments were made at an assembly held at the High School gym on Tuesday afternoon. Twelve students, includa a brother and sister, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Watson, were tapped for membership in the National Society.

Seniors receiving the honor were Karen Lynch, John Watson, Laurie Kaufman, Mary Jo Beck, William Swenson, Eric Treichel, Pamela Ingebrigtsen and Kristin Olson. Juniors were Jana Apelgren, Margaret Noreus and Mark Oja. Judy Watson was the only sophomore.

Students receiving the honor of membership in the National Honor Society are selected for their scholastic ability and for meritorious service in their school.

Briefly Told

Gladstone Police issued a trafic citation for failing to yield the right of way to Mark C. Tibergien, 1502 Wisconsin Ave., after a minor traffic accident at 9th St. and Lake Shore Dr. on Friday.

Gladstone City Police issued a traffic citation to David R. Clark, 18, of 521 Ogden Ave., Escanaba, for improper passing when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Mrs. Joyce Rabitoy, 720 Montana Ave. Thursday. Clark was thrown from his vehicle when he attempted to pass Mrs. Rabitoy who had signaled for a turn at the intersection of Montana Ave. and S. 9th St. Clark was not injured in the mishap.

Kathy Osterberg, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Osterberg, 1321 Wisconsin Ave. was injured Thursday afternoon when she rode her bicycle into a car driven by Bradley Carlson, 317 N. 17th St. on Dakota Ave. near the 11th St. intersection. The Carlson car had stalled and was being pushed by several boys trying to get it started. Kathy was treated at a local doctor's office.

Traffic Fatality Study:

Weekend Walks To Taverns Bad

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A walk along a road on a Friday or Saturday evening in December is not a good idea, especially if the walk includes a stop at a tavern, a University of Michigan study indicates.

A U-M report on pedestrian deaths in traffic accidents showed statistically that pedestrian accidents are most likely to happen at night in clear weather, under artificial light, and on a dry, straight asphalt road. Further the statistics compiled by Prof. Donald F. Huelke of the U-M- Highway Safety Research Institute show that December is the worst month for pedestrian accidents and Friday and Saturday the worst days of the week.

Huelke said, however, that numerous accidents occur in broad daylight and in a variety of situations.

Alcohol was the single factor most commonly associated with victims, he stated.

He said secondary impact with the road should be considered an important source of fatal injuries to pedestrians.

He said fatal injuries attributed to features of the vehicle, such as protruding bumpers, don't appear to be as important as supposed by many.

"Such specific items could not be identified in this study, said Huelke who considered 286 pedestrian fatalities in Detroit and suburban Wayne County.

"From the police photographs it is obvious that the pedestrians had contact not only with the front of the car but also at times the top of the hood, windshield, and parts of the windshield frame," Huelke said." In addition, striking the road surface should be considered one of the prime causes of fatel injuries."

Hueyke called the pedestrian the most unprepared element in traffic adding that this element accounts for about 18 per cent of the nation's 50,000-plus traffic fatalities each year.

Alcohol is involved in many deaths, Prof. Huelke said. He said tests indicated that 61 per cent of those studied had been drinking and half of those exceeded the federal standard for intoxication.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 527

AN ORDINANCE TO LEVY SUCH TAXES AS MAY BE NECESSARY TO MEET APPROPRIATIONS MADE AND ALL SUMS REQUIRED BY LAW TO BE RAISED TO DEFRAY THE DEBTS, EXPENDITURES, AND LIABILITIES OF SAID CITY FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING ON THE 30TH DAY OF JUNE, 1970, AND REQUIRING AN AUTHORIZED LEVY ON THE JULY 1969 CITY TAX ROLL OF RETURNED UNPAID SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS, TOGETHER WITH SUCH PENALTIES THEREON AS IS PROVIDED BY THE CITY CHARTER.

THE CITY OF ESCANABA ORDAINS:

CHAPTER I.

Section 101. That there shall be raised by taxation upon all of the taxable property in the City of Escanaba at the next general city (or July, 1969) tax levy, the sum of Six Hundred Forty Three Thousand, Two Hundred Thirty One and 87/100 Dollars ($643,231.87) for the purpose of defraying debts, expenditures and liabilities of said City of Escanaba for the fiscal year ending on the 30th day of June, 1970, in accordance with the 1969-70 budget of said City as submitted by the Manager, as amended by the Council, and approved.

Section 102. That said sum of Six Hundred Forty Three Thousand, Two Hundred Thirty One and 87/100 for the payment of all of the foregoing debts, expenditures and liabilities herein before mentioned be appropriated for the several funds of the City of Escanaba for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1970, and that the same be forthwith certified by the Clerk of said City of Escanaba to the City Assessor of said City, and the same shall be levied and collected upon the assessed valuation of all taxable property within the said City of Escanaba in accordance with the provisions of the City Charter and the Laws of the State of Michigan, for the levying and collection of taxes.

Section 103. That the Clerk of the City shall report on June 30, 1969, to the City Assessor the amounts of all the several delinquent special tax assessments becoming due prior to January 1, 1969, and returned unpaid by the City Treasurer on said date of June 30, 1969, for all public improvements hereto before levied upon each, together with the name of the owner or occupant against whom such assessment was made, as contained in the special roll prepared therefore, and on file in the office of the City Treasurer, and the City Assessor is hereby authorized and directed to levy and spread said sums so assessed, together with the penalties fixed by law, in the July, 1969, tax levy against persons and property charged therewith in such special assessment roll in accordance with the provisions of the City Charter of the City of Escanaba.

CHAPTER II.

Section 104. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council hereby declares theat it would have passed this ordinance irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses and phrases thereof be declared unconstitutional.

Section 105. This ordinance shall be duly published as required by the Charter and shall be in full force and effect ten (10) days after the date of its publication.

I, Donald J. Guindon, Clerk of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, do hereby sertify that the above and foregoing ordinance was duly passed and adopted at a special meeting of the City Council held on May 28, 1969.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 527

AN ORDINANCE TO LEVY SUCH TAXES AS MAY BE NECESSARY TO MEET APPROPRIATIONS MADE AND ALL SUMS REQUIRED BY LAW TO BE RAISED TO DEFRAY THE DEBTS, EXPENDITURES, AND LIABILITIES OF SAID CITY FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING ON THE 30TH DAY OF JUNE, 1970, AND REQUIRING AN AUTHORIZED LEVY ON THE JULY 1969 CITY TAX ROLL OF RETURNED UNPAID SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS, TOGETHER WITH SUCH PENALTIES THEREON AS IS PROVIDED BY THE CITY CHARTER.

THE CITY OF ESCANABA ORDAINS:

CHAPTER I.

Section 101. That there shall be raised by taxation upon all of the taxable property in the City of Escanaba at the next general city (or July, 1969) tax levy, the sum of Six Hundred Forty Three Thousand, Two Hundred Thirty One and 87/100 Dollars ($643,231.87) for the purpose of defraying debts, expenditures and liabilities of said City of Escanaba for the fiscal year ending on the 30th day of June, 1970, in accordance with the 1969-70 budget of said City as submitted by the Manager, as amended by the Council, and approved.

Section 102. That said sum of Six Hundred Forty Three Thousand, Two Hundred Thirty One and 87/100 for the payment of all of the foregoing debts, expenditures and liabilities herein before mentioned be appropriated for the several funds of the City of Escanaba for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1970, and that the same be forthwith certified by the Clerk of said City of Escanaba to the City Assessor of said City, and the same shall be levied and collected upon the assessed valuation of all taxable property within the said City of Escanaba in accordance with the provisions of the City Charter and the Laws of the State of Michigan, for the levying and collection of taxes.

Section 103. That the Clerk of the City shall report on June 30, 1969, to the City Assessor the amounts of all the several delinquent special tax assessments becoming due prior to January 1, 1969, and returned unpaid by the City Treasurer on said date of June 30, 1969, for all public improvements hereto before levied upon each, together with the name of the owner or occupant against whom such assessment was made, as contained in the special roll prepared therefore, and on file in the office of the City Treasurer, and the City Assessor is hereby authorized and directed to levy and spread said sums so assessed, together with the penalties fixed by law, in the July, 1969, tax levy against persons and property charged therewith in such special assessment roll in accordance with the provisions of the City Charter of the City of Escanaba.

CHAPTER II.

Section 104. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council hereby declares thcat it would have passed this ordinance irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses and phrases thereof be declared unconstitutional.

Section 105. This ordinance shall be duly published as required by the Charter and shall be in full force and effect ten (10) days after the date of its publication.

I, Donald J. Guindon, Clerk of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, do hereby sertify that the above and foregoing ordinance was duly passed and adopted at a special meeting of the City Council held on May 28, 1969.

DONALD J. GUINDON
City Clerk

In Memoriam

Wienckowski

In loving memory of Stanley Wienckowski.

Twelve years have passed since that sad day
The one we loved was called away,
God took him home it was his will,
Within our rearts ne liveth still.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

"Bull's-eye!" The arrow flew straight to the heart of the target.

And so, straight to the heart of the matter fly the minds of young people today. In this age of advanced technology and far-flung communication, youngsters are better informed, geographically, politically, scientifically and economically than at any other time. No vague generalities, no sugar-coated probabilities will satisfy them. They want the facts and straight-to-the-point answers.

That's why your church recognizes the importance of having trained and devout leaders and teachers for its youth programs.

Graduation time salutes these people who give so much of their time and training to the Christian development of our children. Their dedication and devotion reflect their love of God in their ministry to the men and women of tomorrow.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

"Bull's-eye!" The arrow flew straight to the heart of the target.

And so, straight to the heart of the matter fly the minds of young people today. In this age of advanced technology and far-flung communication, youngsters are better informed, geographically, politically, scientifically and economically than at any other time. No vague generalities, no sugar-coated probabilities will satisfy them. They want the facts and straight-to-the-point answers.

That's why your church recognizes the importance of having trained and devout leaders and teachers for its youth programs.

Graduation time salutes these people who give so much of their time and training to the Christian development of our children. Their dedication and devotion reflect their love of God in their ministry to the men and women of tomorrow.

Milliken Again Defends Recreation Bond Plans

Gov. William Milliken defended his legislative recommendation that most of the $100 million recreation bond fund be spent in urban areas of the state when he spoke Saturday night before the Michigan Association of Outdoor Writers (MOWA) in convention at Blaney Park.

"I personally hold firm to my belief that more money must go into urban areas than would be provided by the original 70-30 proposal," the Michigan governor told the writers, who generally disagree with his formula.

Voters approved the $100 million recreational bond issue last November, most with the understanding that 70 per cent would go for state-wide recreational development and 30 per cent to urban areas.

Since approval of the bond issue, however, the governor has supported a distribution which would funnel the major share of funds into inner-city development.

Five-Year Plan

He is also recommending a five-year program of development "in order to sooner satisfy these urgent needs" rather than the 10-year spread which was suggested during the bond issue campaign.

"My commitment, my obligation, was to recommend a program that was based on the latest information and could best meet our most urgent needs," he said, disavowing that the 70-30 proposal represented a "commitment."

Critics of the governor's proposal argued that since the 70-30 division was the selling point of the bond issue campaign, its passage was a mandate of the people and should be honored by the legislature.

(Only two counties in the Upper Peninsula passed the bond issue: Delta and Chippewa. The issue failed in Wayne County which could conceivably reap the richest rewards if the legislature approves the recommendation.)

Plan Deviates

Admitting that "I deviated from earlier suggestions which I acknowledged to have wide support (the 70-30 plan) but which I believe to be outdated and unresponsive to current needs" Milliken said he arrived at his decision to recommend urban development after much study and thought.

In 30 years, he said, nine out of ten Americans will live in urban areas whereas today only seven out of ten Americans live in or near cities.

He emphasized, however, the obligation to rural areas of Michigan deprived of recreational facilities and quoted Dr. Ralph MacMullan, Department of Natural Resources head, who said "people who suffer from recreational anemia are not only found in our cities."

Milliken said he believed there was agreement on three objectives to govern the allocation of bond funds:

- Establish a local recreation program designed to stimulate local communities to invest in new facilities to meet local needs;
- Expand our state parks system and fish, game and campground facilities to meet escalating needs;
- Begin a program to meet critical recreation needs in the urban areas.

A five-year program of spending would cut inflationary losses — land, labor and building material costs — and would curb any pork-barreling such as might occur if the spending was stretched over too many years, he suggested.

Since few communities are able to implement the spending of a significant share of the bond money in the near future and should have time to develop their community recreation plans and submit applications, he said he is reviewing proposed legislation to allocate $20 million for first-year spending.

A slow approach will also allow the Department of Natural Resources (who will administer funding) time to establish priorities and procedures.

The governor was given a standing ovation when he was introduced and the writers listened intently while he delivered his address.

Whether he convinced them remains to be seen.

Good Day For Governor

Everything went right for Gov. William G. Milliken Saturday.

His flight was due in at the Schoolcraft County airport at 5 p.m. but he didn't keep anyone waiting since he arrived 15 minutes early.

He drove from the airport to Blaney Park, about 18 miles, but U.S. 2 is in decent repair along that stretch and he was spared any embarrassing questions about his ride on the "pot holes" or bumpy roadway.

Shortly after arriving at Blaney Park, he was asked to take part in a "frisbee toss" on the lawn of the Inn as part of a promotion for the International Frisbee Contest in Eagle Harbor on July 7. He didn't miss a catch while the television camera was busy recording the event.

The audience was attentive and respectful during his address to the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association even though he mused aloud that he realized he was addressing the "70-30-or fight" club (referring to the MOWA's endorsement of the $100 million recreation bond funding and in opposition to the governor's proposal.)

Council Tackles Off-Street Parking

Downtown parking will again be discussed when city council meets tonight at 7:30 at the city hall. Petitions are expected to be presented council indicating the number of property owners who support or are opposed to the proposed off-street parking plan.

Council will also consider an offer from the Industrial Development Committee for purchase of a boat launching site and a resolution authorizing the city manager to file an application with the Economic Development Administration for a harbor project grant.

A decision will also be made on the hiring of an engineering firm to make a study and report on improvements to the waste water plant as required by the Water Resources Commission.

THE GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN and the president of the Michigan Outdoors Writers Association talked it over at the MOWA's meeting at Blaney Park. Gov. William Milliken (left) addressed the group which has Kenneth S. Lowe, Marquette, editor of the Marquette Mining Journal, and former member of the Michigan Conservation Commission, as its new president. (Daily Press Photos)

Health Director, Dr. Eadie, Resigns

Dr. Gordon A. Eadie

Dr. Gordon A. Eadie, director of the Alger-Schoolcraft-Luce Mackinac Health Department since 1966 will resign his position effective June 13.

No successor has been named to replace him.

Effective July 1, he will become Commissioner of Health of Rensselaer County, New York, with offices in Troy.

Dr. Eadie had announced his intention of resigning two months ago to the boards of supervisors of the four-county area he serves.

He expressed gratitute for the loyalty and teamwork of the four-county health department staffs and the cooperation of medical people, hospitals and community agencies during his period of directorship.

Dr. Eadie acknowledged that much progress has been made to conquer major public health problems. He specified certain areas of concern in the Upper Peninsula where improvements are still needed. Water pollution, air pollution (mainly tobacco smoke), improved mental health facilities and additional personnel.

The shortage of beds in hospitals, medical care facilities and nursing homes in the four-county area he serves were also mentioned as badly-needed improvements.

24 Jurors Drawn For June Term

Twenty-four petit jurors have been drawn for the June term of Circuit Court which will convene in Schoolcraft County on June 16. The jurors are to report for duty at 10 a.m. on June 18.

Notified to report for duty are Donald Lee Knoph, Margaret P. Pelon, Frank E. Krzyzanski, Judith Provo, Frederick Tyrrell, Robert Weber, Violet Arnold, Gilbert Berwin, Helen Creighton, all of the city of Manistique.

Township jurors include Rita Chartier and Gregory Goudreau, Doyle; Leo Lawrence Sr. and Ruth Martensen, Germfask; Carla McKilligan and Donald Ott, Hiawatha; Gerald Swagart and Kenneth Cutler, Inwood.

Ceclia Fugere and Constance Berglund, Manistique; June Hoholik and John P. Olsen, Thompson; Effie Nelson and Jodean Berthume, Mueller; and Lois LaRose, Doyle.

Briefly Told

Job's Daughters, Bethel 69, will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

The polls will be open until 8 p.m. today for the annual school election.

St. Alban's Church is continuing their rummage sale in the undercroft of the church. Sales will begin every day at 9:30 until 12 noon.

Central, Fairview, Hiawatha and Doyle schools hot lunch menu for Tuesday will include baked fish squares, whipped potatoes, tartar sauce, buttered corn, Hawaiian delight and beverage.

The Community School Advisory Board will meet tomorrow noon in Room 103 of the Central School for their regular monthly meeting. All chairmen and delegates are asked to be present.

A car driven by Wendy L. Allen, 18, of Green Bay, Wis. struck and killed a deer at 9:30 p.m. Friday on County Road 499 in Nahma Township, state police report. No tickets or personal injuries were reported.

In Service

Capt. Alroy J. Mersnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Mernsnick, 135 N. Houghton Ave., Manistique, is a member of a unit that has earned the U. S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Capt. Mersnick, a fuels officer in the 21st Composite Wing at Elmendorf AFB, Alaska, will wear the distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit.

His unit was cited for its outstanding record in areas of combat readiness, training and support of the Southeast Asia effort. This is the third consecutive award the wing has won since its formation in July 1966.

Mersnick, a 1955 graduate of Manistique High School, received his B. S. degree from Wisconsin State University at Superior and was commissioned there in 1960 through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

One of the rarest of English coins is the 1937 threepence bearing the portrait of Edward VIII. Only a few specimens were struck before he abdicated.

Kiddies Parade Taking Shape

Plans are underway for the annual Kiddies Parade which will be held this year on July 3, according to Mrs. E. J. Doyle and Mrs. J. P. Quick, cochairmen of the event.

The Parade will form at Triangle Park, opposite the Post Office, at 1 p.m. The children will march through the down-down business district at 1:30 and proceed to the A. F. Hall Stadium where prizes will be awarded. The Kiltie Band from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. will lead the parade.

Prizes will be awarded for both individual and group entries in comic, patriotic, prettiest and original divisions. Children may also enter with decorated bikes and pets. There will also be first and second prizes for different age groups. Any child 1 to 12 years of age may enter.

The Fourth of July activities are again being sponsored by American Legion Post 83. Judges and workers for the Kiddie Parade will be announced later.

Hickel Trains To Stay Fit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The exercises encourage quick reflexes, accurate counter punching and fancy footwork, useful skills for politics, but they mean physical fitness to Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel.

Hickel, 49, works out almost daily for exactly one hour either in the Interior Department gym or in a private athletic club a few blocks away.

Udall used to say, "I love that expression 'run for your life.'"

The big Arizonan was a familiar figure in blue workout clothes, jogging across capital parks or in the vanguard of a clutch of VIP's opening a new jogging trail.

Hickel's daily routine is that of a boxer: punching the speed bag, skipping rope, and jogging a precise 17 laps around the gym.

A former Claflin, Kan., farm boy, Hickel won the Kansas Golden Gloves welterweight boxing championship in 1938 at the age of 19.

He has stayed in training ever since, and hard work in his adopted state of Alaska helped keep him tough.

In 1940, Hickel turned up in Seward, Alaska, with 37 cents in his pocket. He washed dishes in a cafe, worked for a railroad, and turned to carpentry. Building homes in Anchorage led to a construction business and he was a millionaire by the time he won the Alaska governorship in 1966.

Michigan Knights Elect Lawrence

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Frank W. Lawrence, 56, an insurance man from the Flint suburb of Flushing, was elected state deputy of the Knights of Columbus at their weekend convention on Mackinac Island. Others elected were William A. Zerotty, Ferndale, secretary; Earl E. Smith, Essexville, treasurer; John A. Matthews, Manistique, advocate; and Julian F. Joseph, Allen Park, warden.

Both Sides File In Tenant Strike

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Both sides filed motions for summary judgement in the Ann Arbor rent strike conspiracy suit Friday but no final decision will be made for at least a week.

Washtenaw County Circuit Judge William Agar set a June 13 2 p.m. deadline for filing of further motions by the landlords and the Ann Arbor Tenants Union and promised to render a decision a short time after that.

The suit is being brought by six Ann Arbor landlords against almost 100 University of Michigan students for their actions in withholding rent from the landlords to enforce a demand for collective bargaining with tenants.

The strike is now in its fourth month.

Earlier in the day a few hundred U-M students met at the center of campus for an "informal rally" about the rent strike. The leaders of the strike explained their position and then most of the group marched to the offices of two of the major campus management agencies.

The rent strikers had four demands. They want:

—An explanation of the role of the John Birch society in the conspiracy suit being brought by the Ann Arbor landlords.

—Immediate opening of the books of the landlords for public scrutiny.

—The conspiracy charges dropped.

—The landlords to negotiate ate with the tenants union.

Two of the six landlords who filed the suit are members of the John Birch Society. The students confronted one of the managers and he denied that the John Birch Society had a role in the suit.

Well over 200 students had crowded into the agency's office. Leaders of the strike talked with one of the managers and were filmed by NBC for a nationwide news broadcast next week.

Lindberg Suspect Pleads Innocent

DETROIT (AP) — William Dupuie of Detroit faces examination June 18 on a first-degree murder charge in the May 26th slaying of an off-duty State Police trooper.

Dupuie, who surrendered to police Friday, pleaded innocent before Recorder's Judge Donald S. Leonard Saturday and was remanded to Wayne County Jail without bail.

Trooper Carl P. Lindberg was shot in the chest by two gunmen when he attempted to break up a robbery in a neighbor's apartment in Detroit. A native of Iron Mountain, he left a wife and baby daughter.

A second man is sought in the slaying.

Failing To Pay Fines

Drivers Lose Licenses In Record Number: Hare

LANSING (AP)—A new state law is resulting in Michigan drivers losing their licenses in record numbers, reports Secretary of State James Hare.

"The law is a monstrosity," Hare said. "When a driver does not pay a moving violation ticket within a 40-day period, he receives an automatic suspension.

"This suspension continues until he pays the ticket and sends in the court clearance with a penalty fee of $2."

Hare, a critic of the law, said it has resulted in thousands of suspensions since it went into effect in January "and the total is rising each day."

"The amazing thing to me is that there hasn't been a grounswell of criticism on the part of the suspended drivers," Hare said.

Hare said he thought the main reason for the lack of complaints is that many of the drivers still have their licenses in possession.

He predicted the protests will come when these drivers end up in jail or have their cars impounded for driving on suspended licenses.

Hare said he favors instead the so-called Illinois system, under which the driver surrenders his license to the arresting policeman until his court appearance.

Hare said actions against drivers, including license suspensions, revocations, cancellation, restrictions and denials, added up to more than 28,000 during the first four months of the year.

He said this was an increase of more than 7,000 over the same period last year.

In April alone, Hare said, 11,427 drivers had various actions taken against them. Nearly 5,000 of these actions were a direct result of the automatic suspension law, he reported.

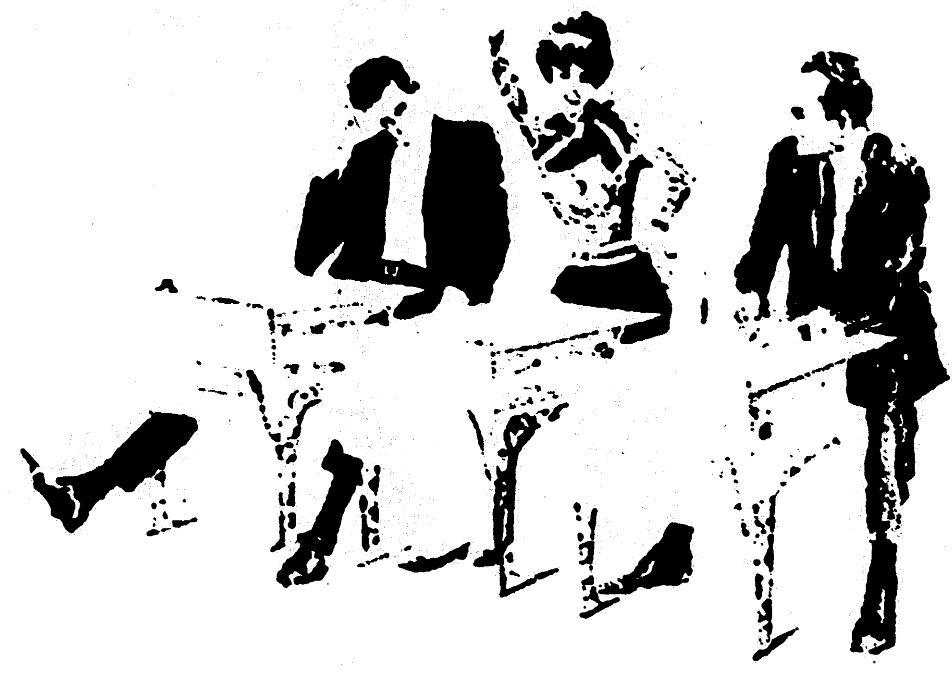
$4.50 per hundred on a loan is 4½% interest, right?

WRONG!



Many car loans are advertised at $4.50 per hundred. People think this means 4½ per cent true annual interest. IT DOESN'T. You're actually paying nearly 9 per cent — when you can get it. Not everyone qualifies. It applies only to new cars, depends on the down payment, etc.

Before you buy a car, check with your credit union first. They'll not only give you the true cost on car financing, but rock-bottom rates on a loan as well. It pays to be a credit union family.
